MANIFESTATIONS of creative thought are the result of knowledge of elementary principles, which is freely applied.

To have been severely restrained is to know the meaning and the exultation of freedom, for it is through contrast that we see most clearly.

The freedom of opportunity surrounds us. We are in such close contact with it daily, that often we are unaware of the presence of this intangible. However, the making of choices—the selection of one or more of a number of alternatives—that is inherent in opportunity, transforms this intangible into a practical, concrete reality.

The avoidance of decisions is the waiving of one's right to opportunity. To try out for the tennis team, to make an analysis of the balance of trade, to steer a committee—this is to take advantage of opportunity. It implies involvement and application of self.

SPIRITUAL FREEDOM ALLOWS THE OPPORTUNITY FOR SELF EXAMINATION WHICH LEADS TO AFFIRMATION OF ONE'S FAITH opportunity

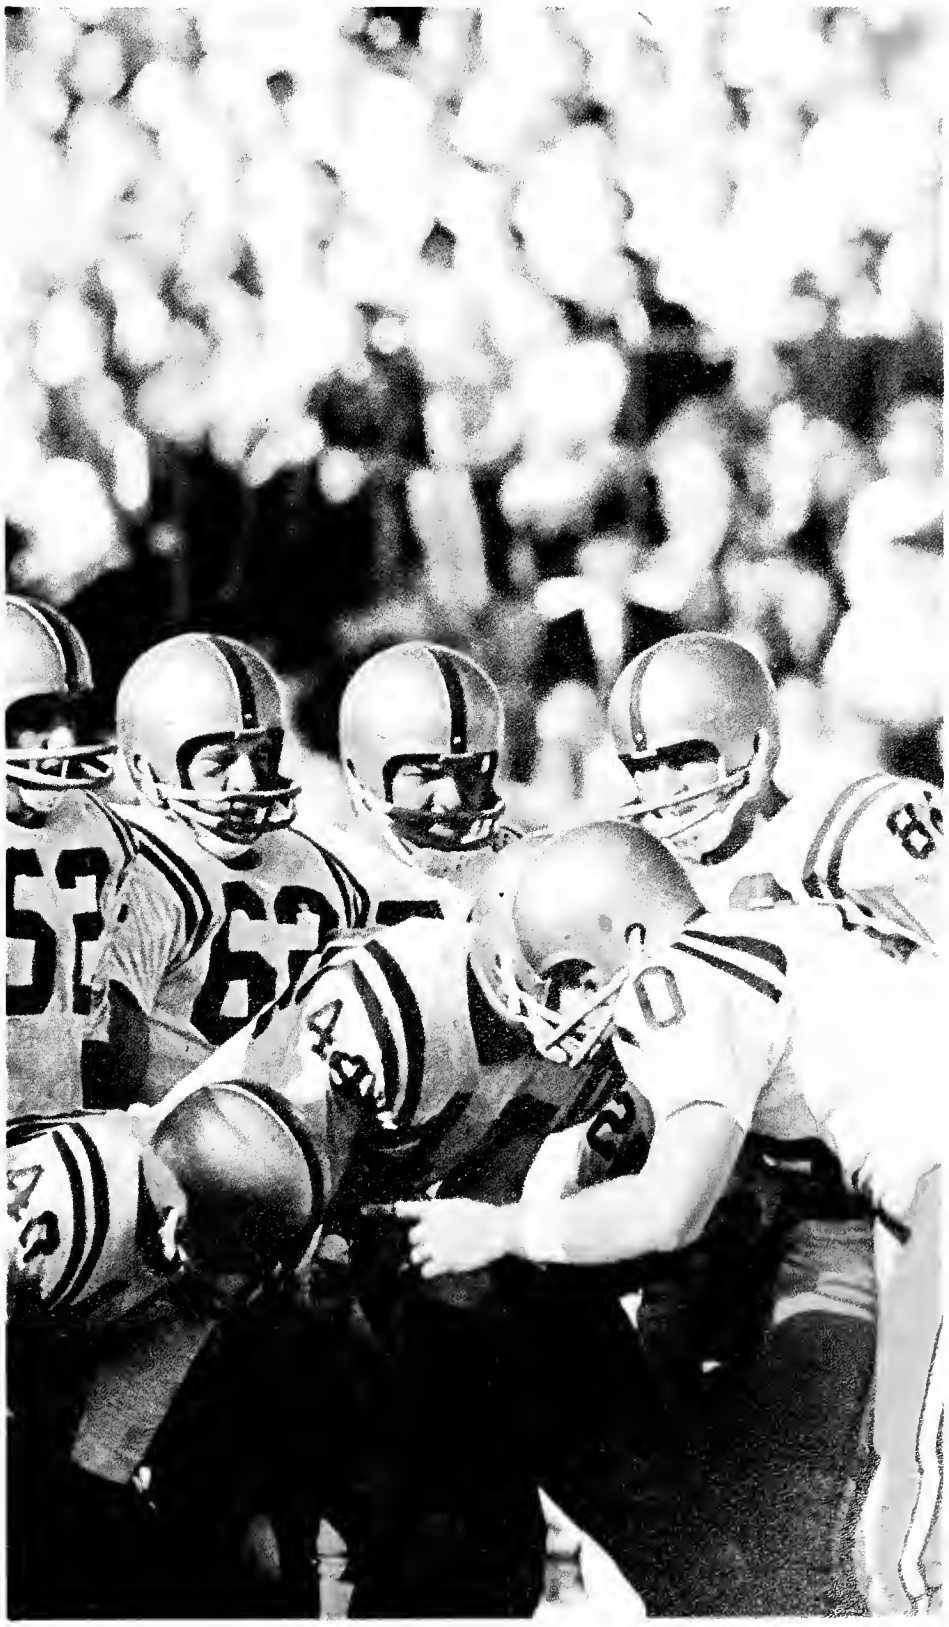
These four years are laden with freedom of opportunity. Their outcome depends upon our acceptance of the responsibility which this freedom entails. We are free to color our lives with the manifestations of success through initiative—or failure through lack of it. A law student may type in order to send himself through school; a humanities major may learn to paint so that he may better appreciate fine art; an English student may work on a school publication for practical experience—or they may not.

Freedom of opportunity implies only decision, not the right decision. The fruitfulness of decision is up to the individual. It's in anticipation of productivity and growth through freedom of opportunity that 1961 commences. The horizon extends wide and unblemished before us.

FREELY EXPRESSED ideas and views, objective news, and pertinent articles are possible through wise staff evaluation.

Valuable training and experience are made available through the multitude of extracurricular activities combining both social and service orientation. The opportunity for broadening of interests and extension of talent is ours to realize. Membership rituals... widened horizons through awareness of potential, service and participation... all are integrated in college life and aimed toward individual development

Teamwork, an over used but familiar term, comes alive when one becomes a part of a working group. Through combined efforts, enthusiasm, and certainty of purpose.... any goal is attainable. The growth of the university finds a parallel in the accelerated athletic program....the emphasis on group cooperation and spirit. A new coach, plans for expanded stadium facilities....all point to the rapid change about us....and our freedom to involve ourselves in this growth. Group planning and follow-through frame solidity.

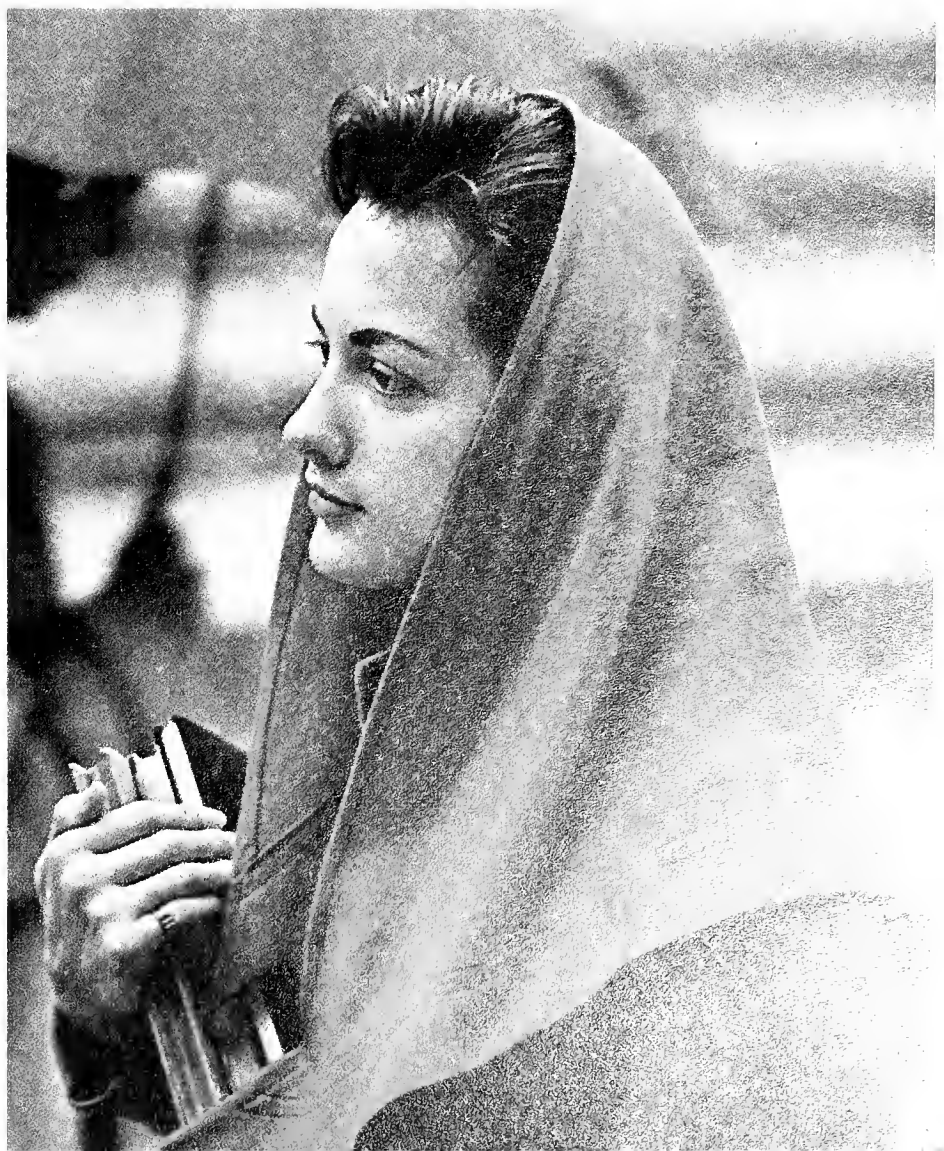


Though ours is an age of constant change, we still cling to the fundamental tennents set forth in 1776. The right to freedom of assembly cannot exist without acceptance of responsibility for ones decision....and an awareness of involvement. The success or failure of the fraternity system rests on a careful weighing of its advantages and responsibilities by those choosing to become a part of it....posing one of a long series of decisions to be made.

As a people comprise the country and its destiny, so the students determine the outcome of a class. Through the interaction of student and professor, the aim of intellectual growth can be realized....or defeated. The freedom of choice allowed in academic pursuit gives us a wide range in which to exercise and develop areas of interest and proficiency. To take advantage of this....to excel....is to insure the permanence of our liberal education.

The democratic way of life demands both capable leaders and enthusiastic followers. It is through conscientious service and informed awareness that the opportunity for leadership is afforded....the continued activity and interest of a group, that makes it necessary. On the campus level, such opportunity is made possible through participation in the discussions, seminars, and sessions at the annual student government retreat....one of many examples of leadership through democracy.

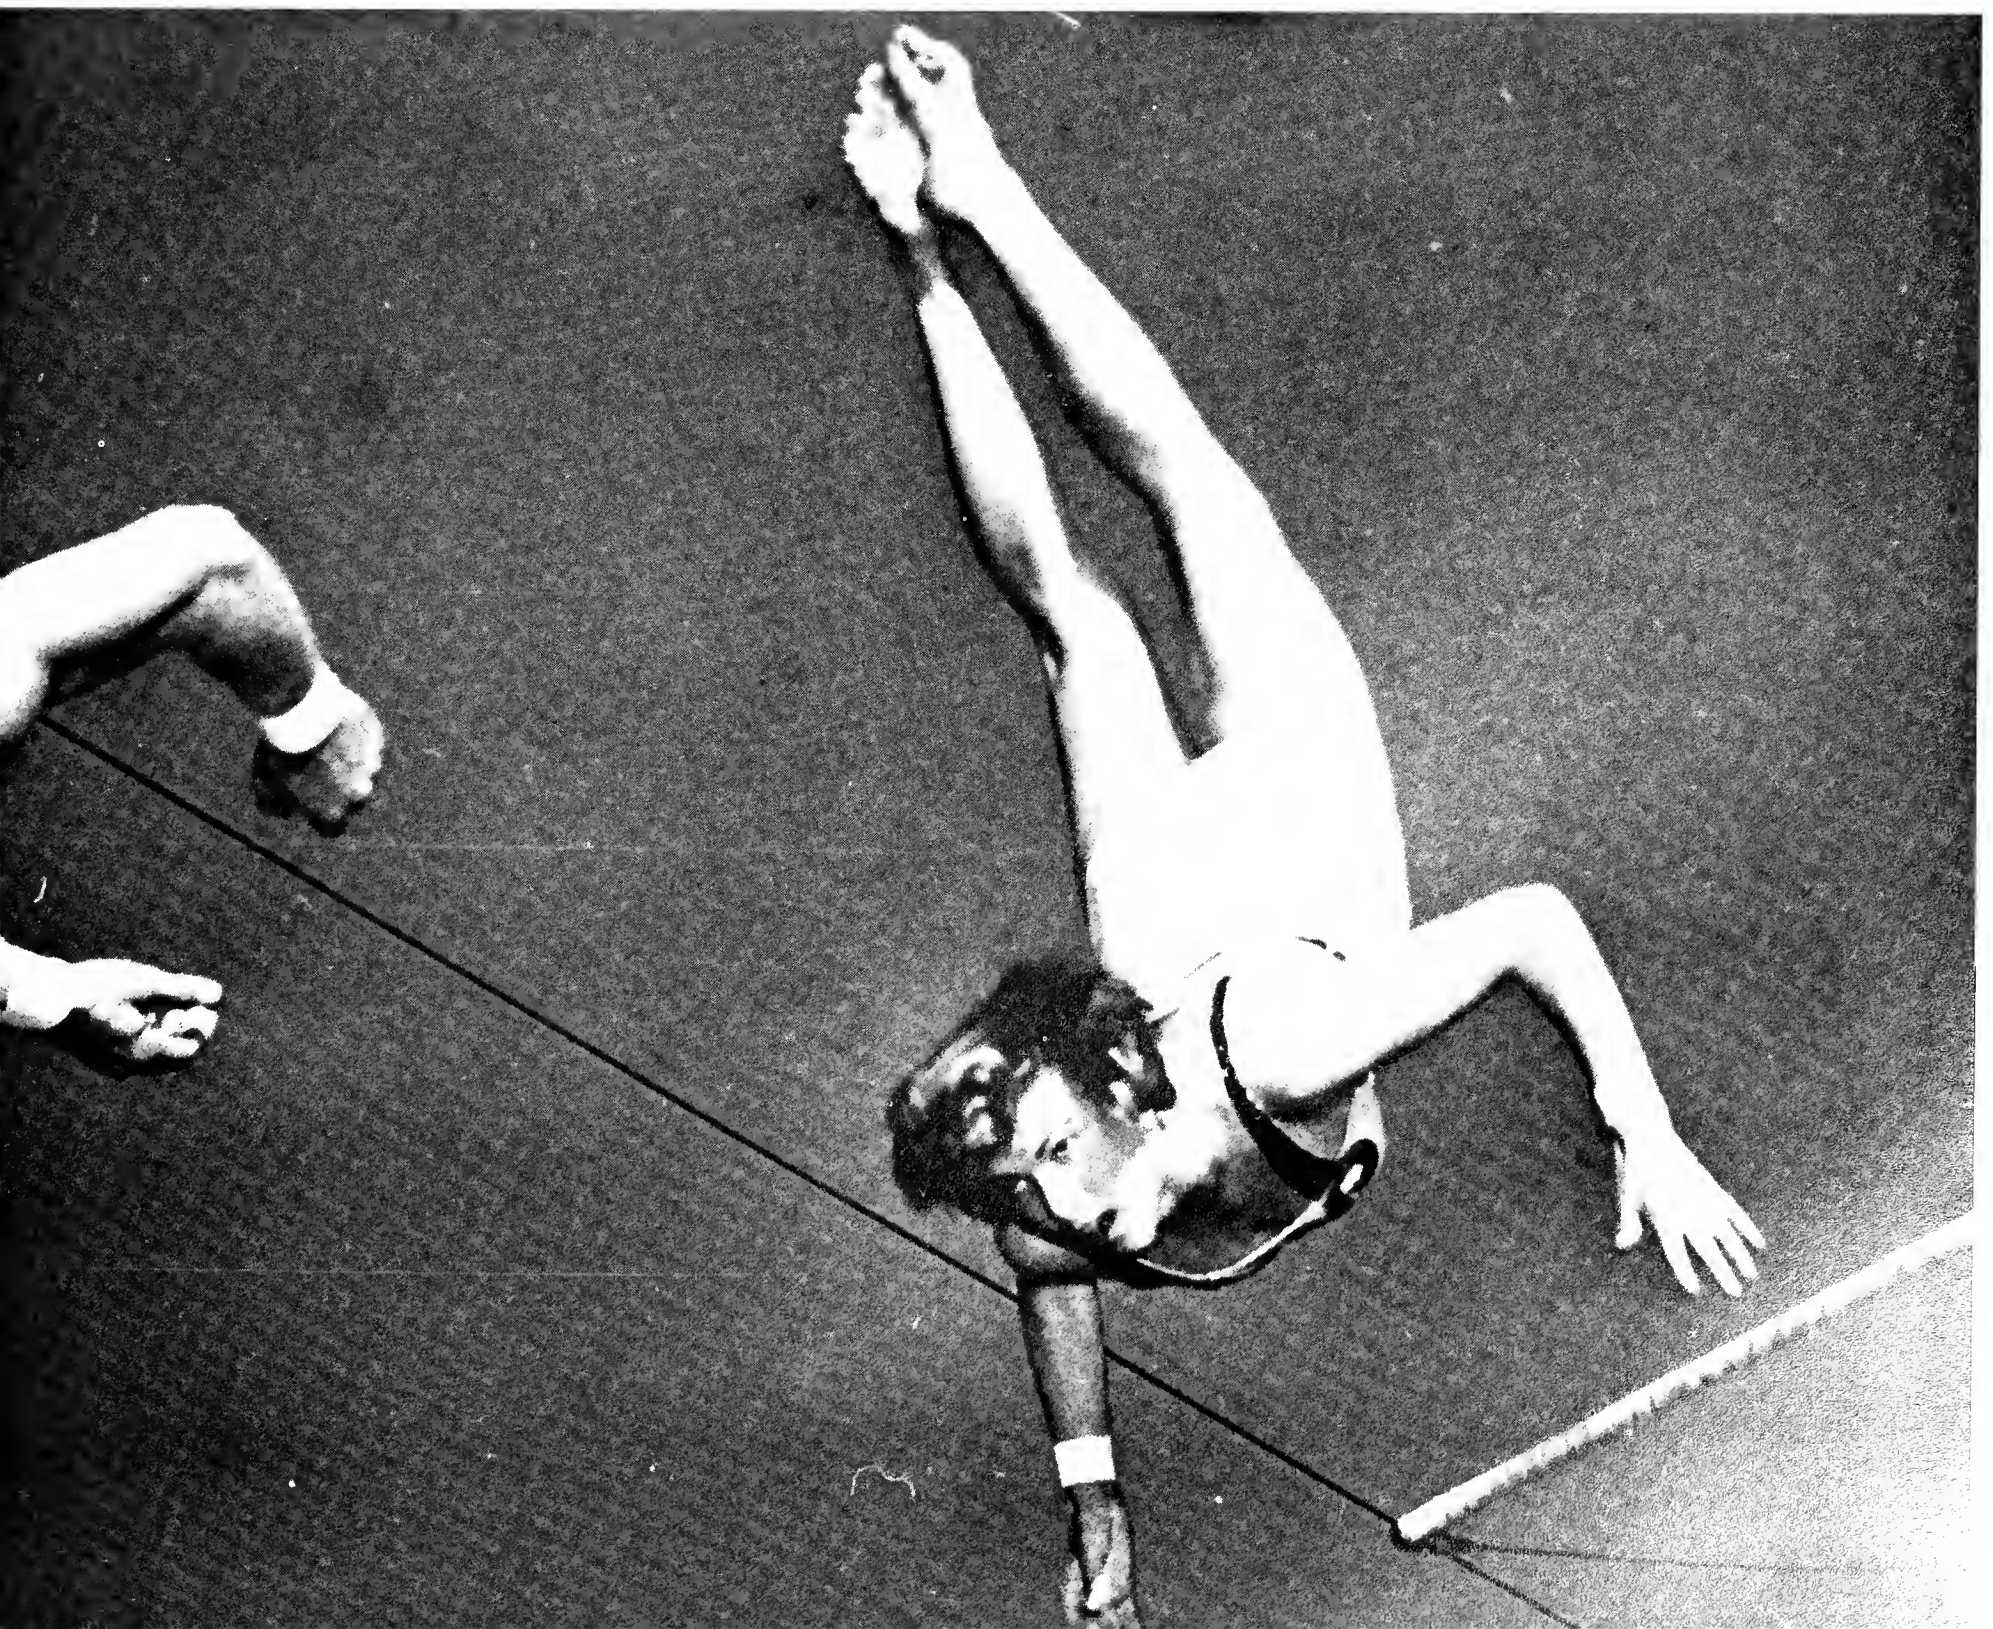
An individual's freedom to make decisions for himself embodies the fundamental concept of the democratic way of life. We are free to choose the alternative.... to follow the precepts....which we find best for each of us individually. Personality development....the kind of person we become....hinges on these choices we make. The excitement, satisfaction, and security of ones coordination with the efforts of à group climax ones expression...as may the intimacy and understanding of close contact in a small circle....or the concentration of thought and freedom of action through independence. The exultation of unity through group participation; a small circle's atmosphere of affection and sympathy; independent individualism.... each situation affords a vital mode of expression. Their interaction and diversity comprise the complex world in which we live. The freedom and challenge in finding which situation brings out ones own best self...his most productive efforts...is inherent in growing up in the democratic community. To have freedom is thus coupled with responsibility. The future is ours to mold.... the present is ours to grasp....the experience of the past is ours to use.



There are events that remain in our memory because of their uniqueness.... their complete envelopment of us. Whether inspired with the awe of magnificence, the anticipation of expectations, the daring of thrilling feats, or sympathy through vicarious experience....our mood is that conveyed by the atmosphere about us.... an atmosphere created through freedom of identity. These special moments comprise the greatest....the most lasting....impressions we form. At Circus, Artist Series, Homecoming.... we flee into that land of dreamy excitement through freedom of identity.

The maintenance of the high standards of living enjoyed today are possible because of the freedom of invention. Behind each modern discovery....each new technique or principle....lie months of research and study. The freedom to experiment and investigate individually culminates in involvement and enlightenment. The application of aptitude is a fulfillment of freedom.

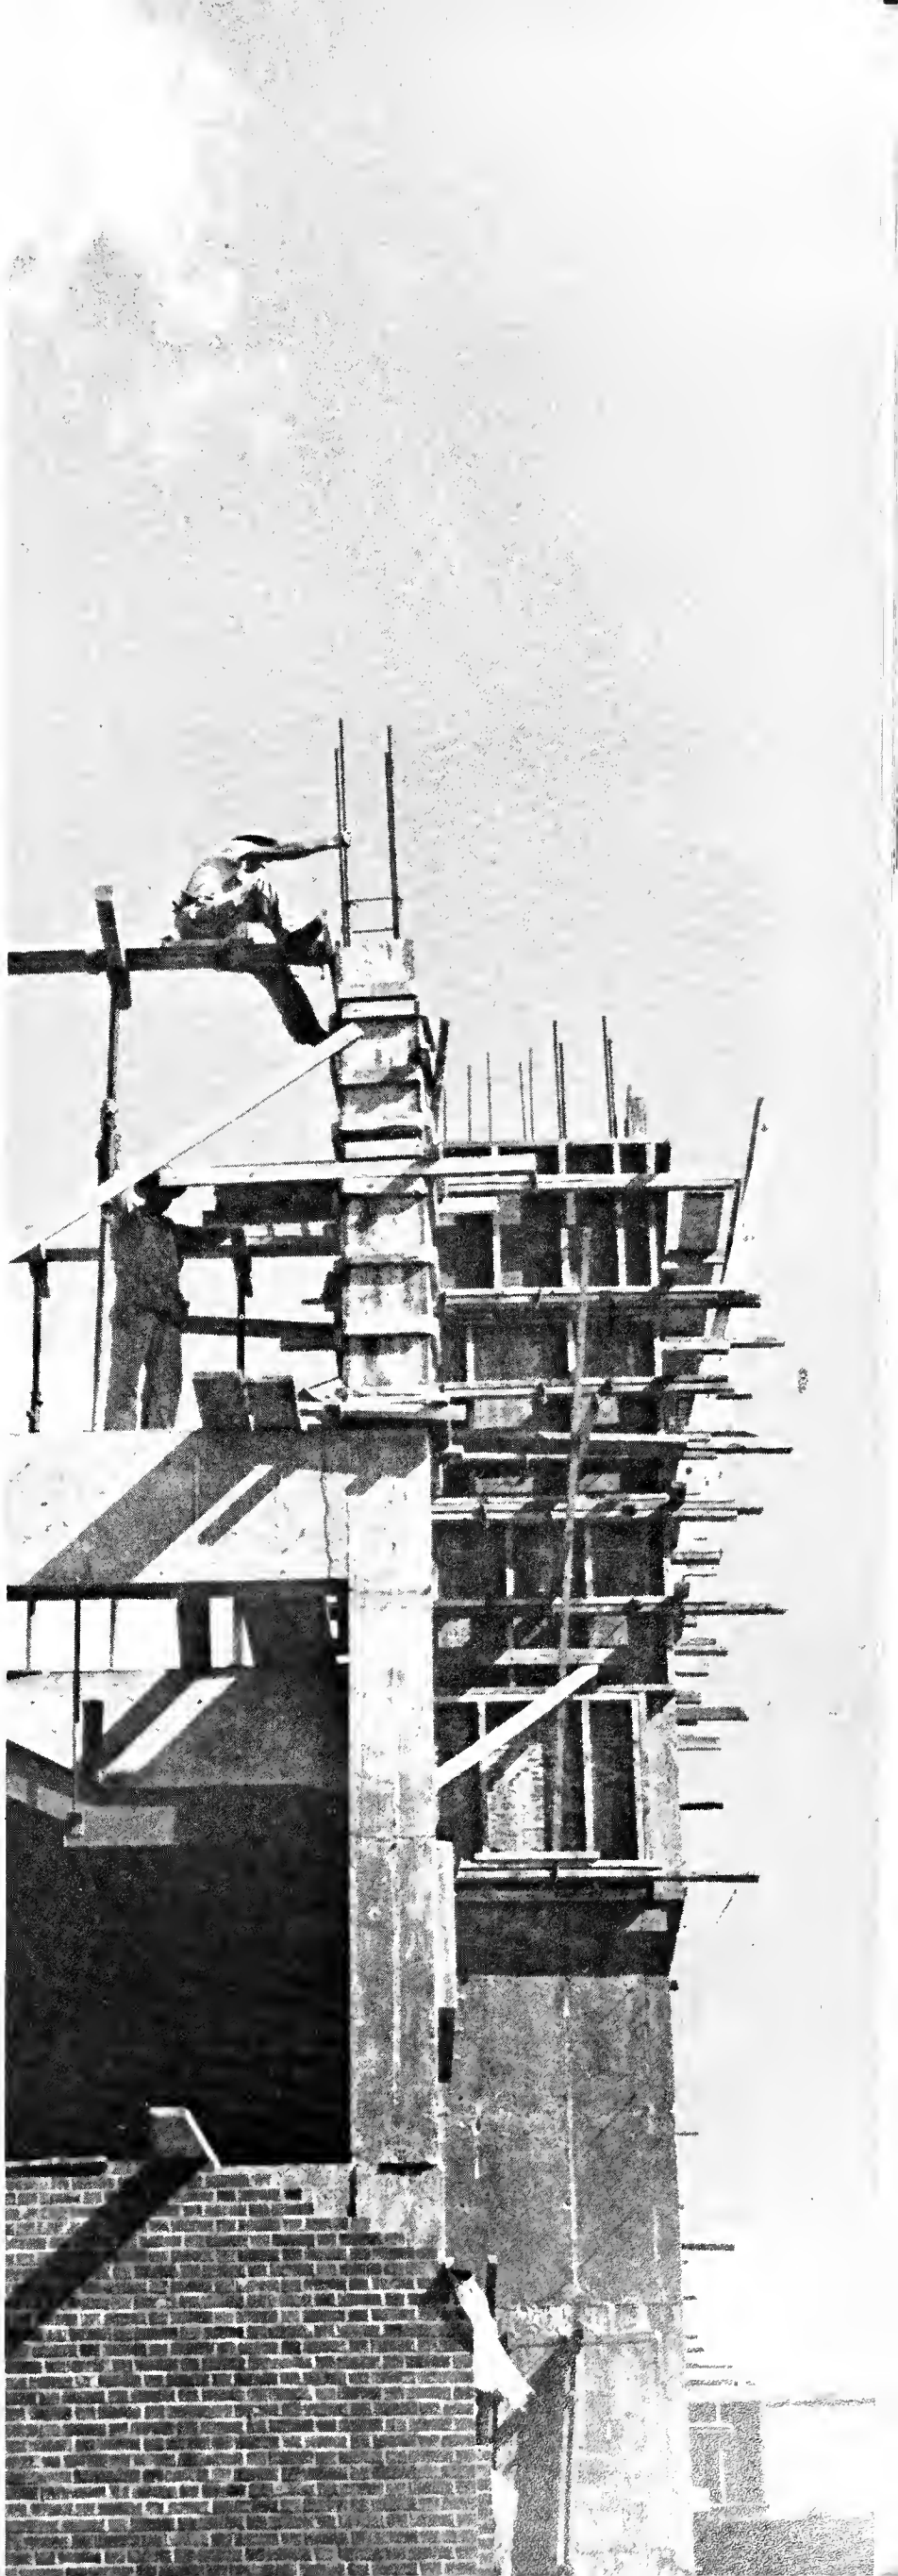
Wrapped in the surety of another's affection, we have accepted the greatest of all opportunities....that of loving as we are loved. With all opportunity there is ensuing responsibility....but with this acceptance of responsibility, freedom from self is attained. Love has many manifestations....a soft caress....a gentle word....the warmth of security. In each is embodied the transference of feeling for self to the one whom we love. The freedom of friendship....to love....is complex. To receive implies first to have given.

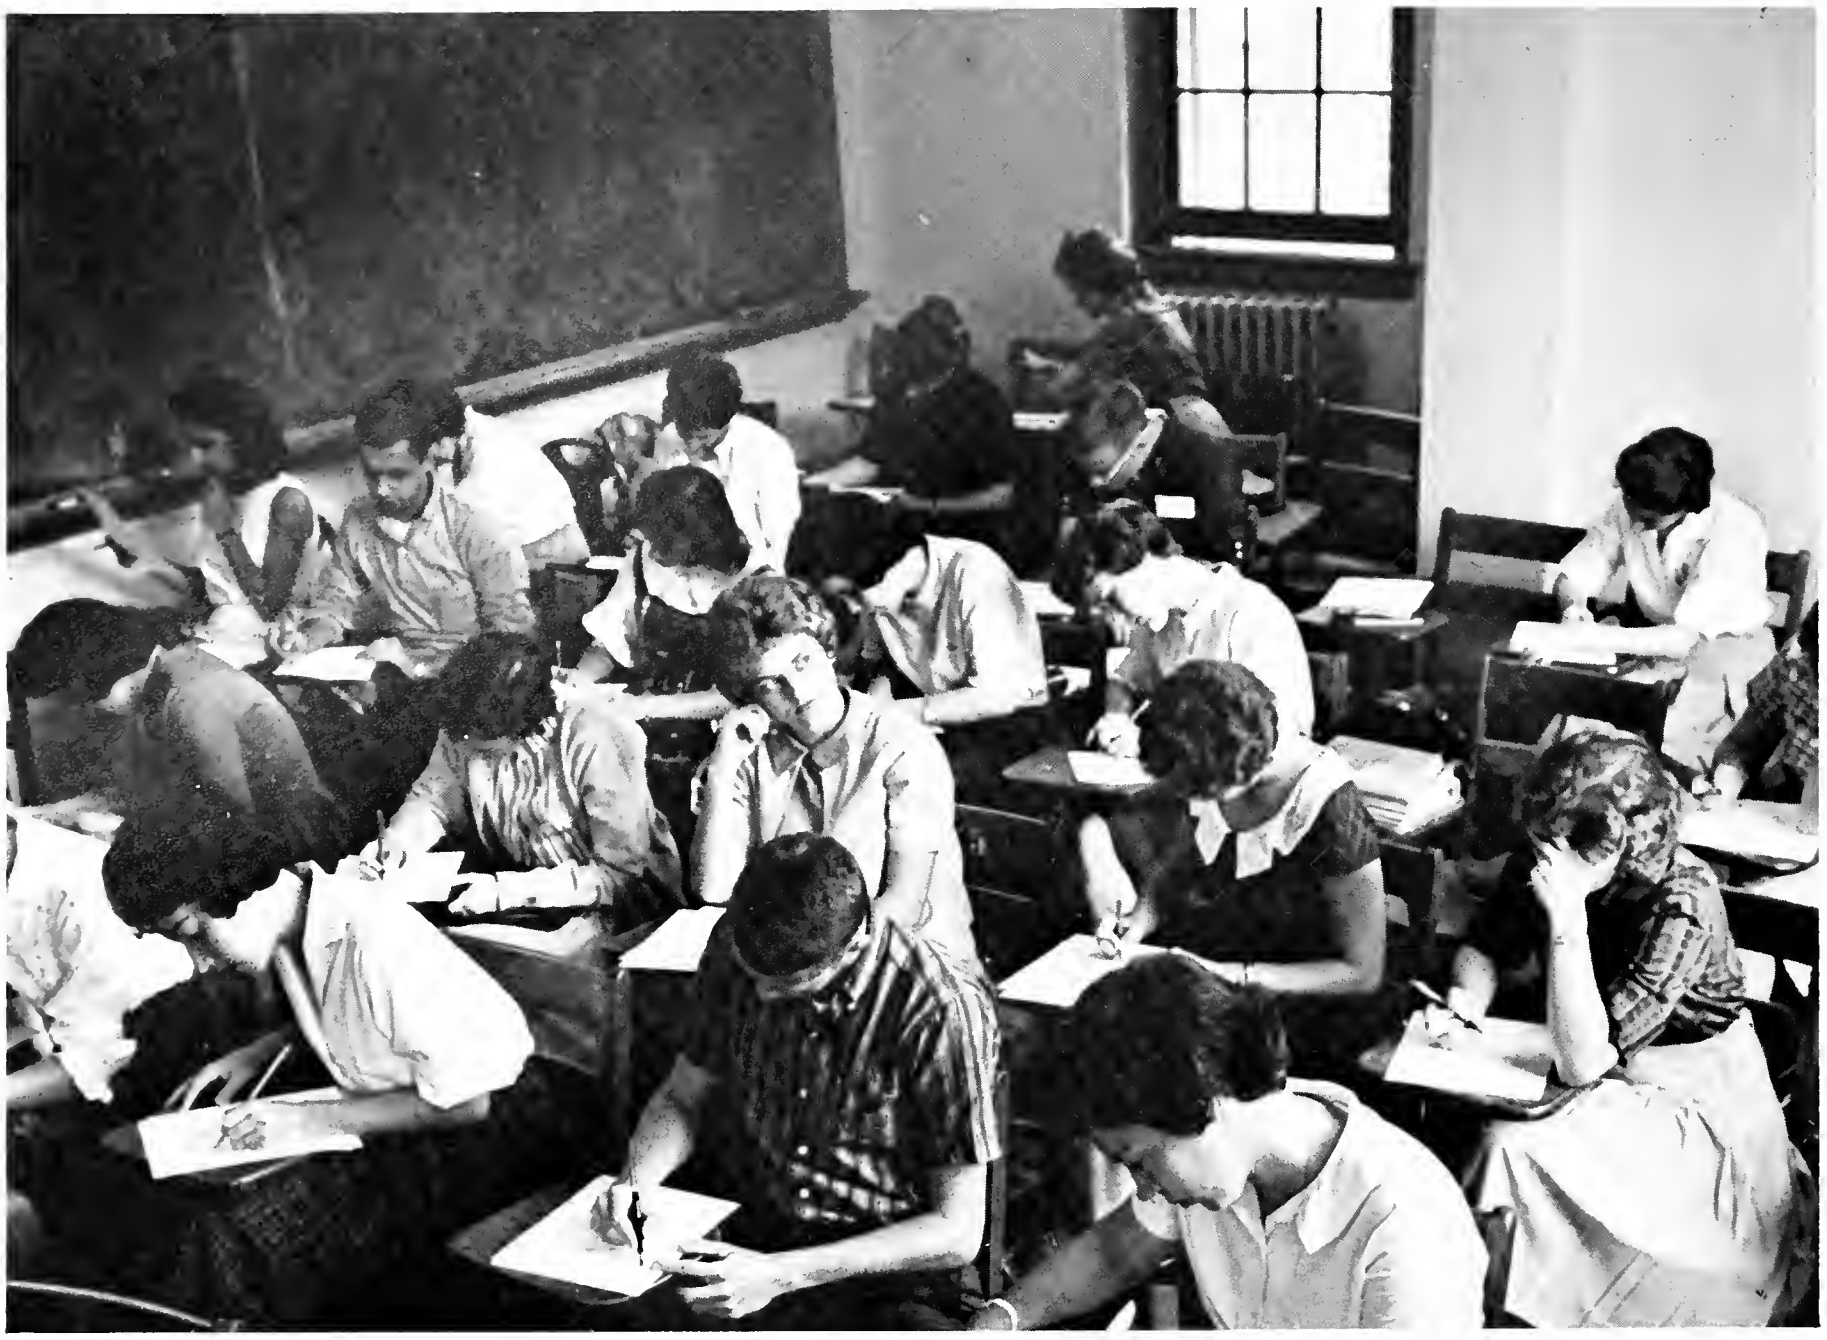


Freedom of thought is the pivot on which progress hinges. To criticize.... to question....to discuss....this is the method through which fruitful suggestion and continued improvement are made possible. Obsolescence, confusion, and inefficiency....all may be curtailed by a thoughtful exchange of ideas and opinions. Plans for the future may be realized and extended far beyond original goals, if understanding and the reality of opportunity are made known through free interchange of ideas.

Democratic leadership require that one be aware of and receptive to those around him — their feelings and their capabilities. In every phase of life in the democratic community, there is great freedom of direction.... freedom of mobility. The leader is not a figurehead... but a guide and an influence. His responsibility is to the group and its ultimate welfare... to the success of its projects.

Growth....Change....Expansion....these are synonomous with progress. What lies ahead for the university and for its students cannot be ascertained, but only predicted. Predictions made in years past....even with all their optimism and hope....have culminated in actualities which far surpass the dreams of most. The potential, the possibilities with which we may plan, experiment, and build contain the seeds of a greatness attainable only through the principles of freedom on which our country is founded.





"TRUE EASE COMES FROM ART, NOT CHANCE, AS THOSE MOVE EASIEST WHO HAVE LEARNED TO DANCE...." Alexander Pope

Dedication to Freedom . . .

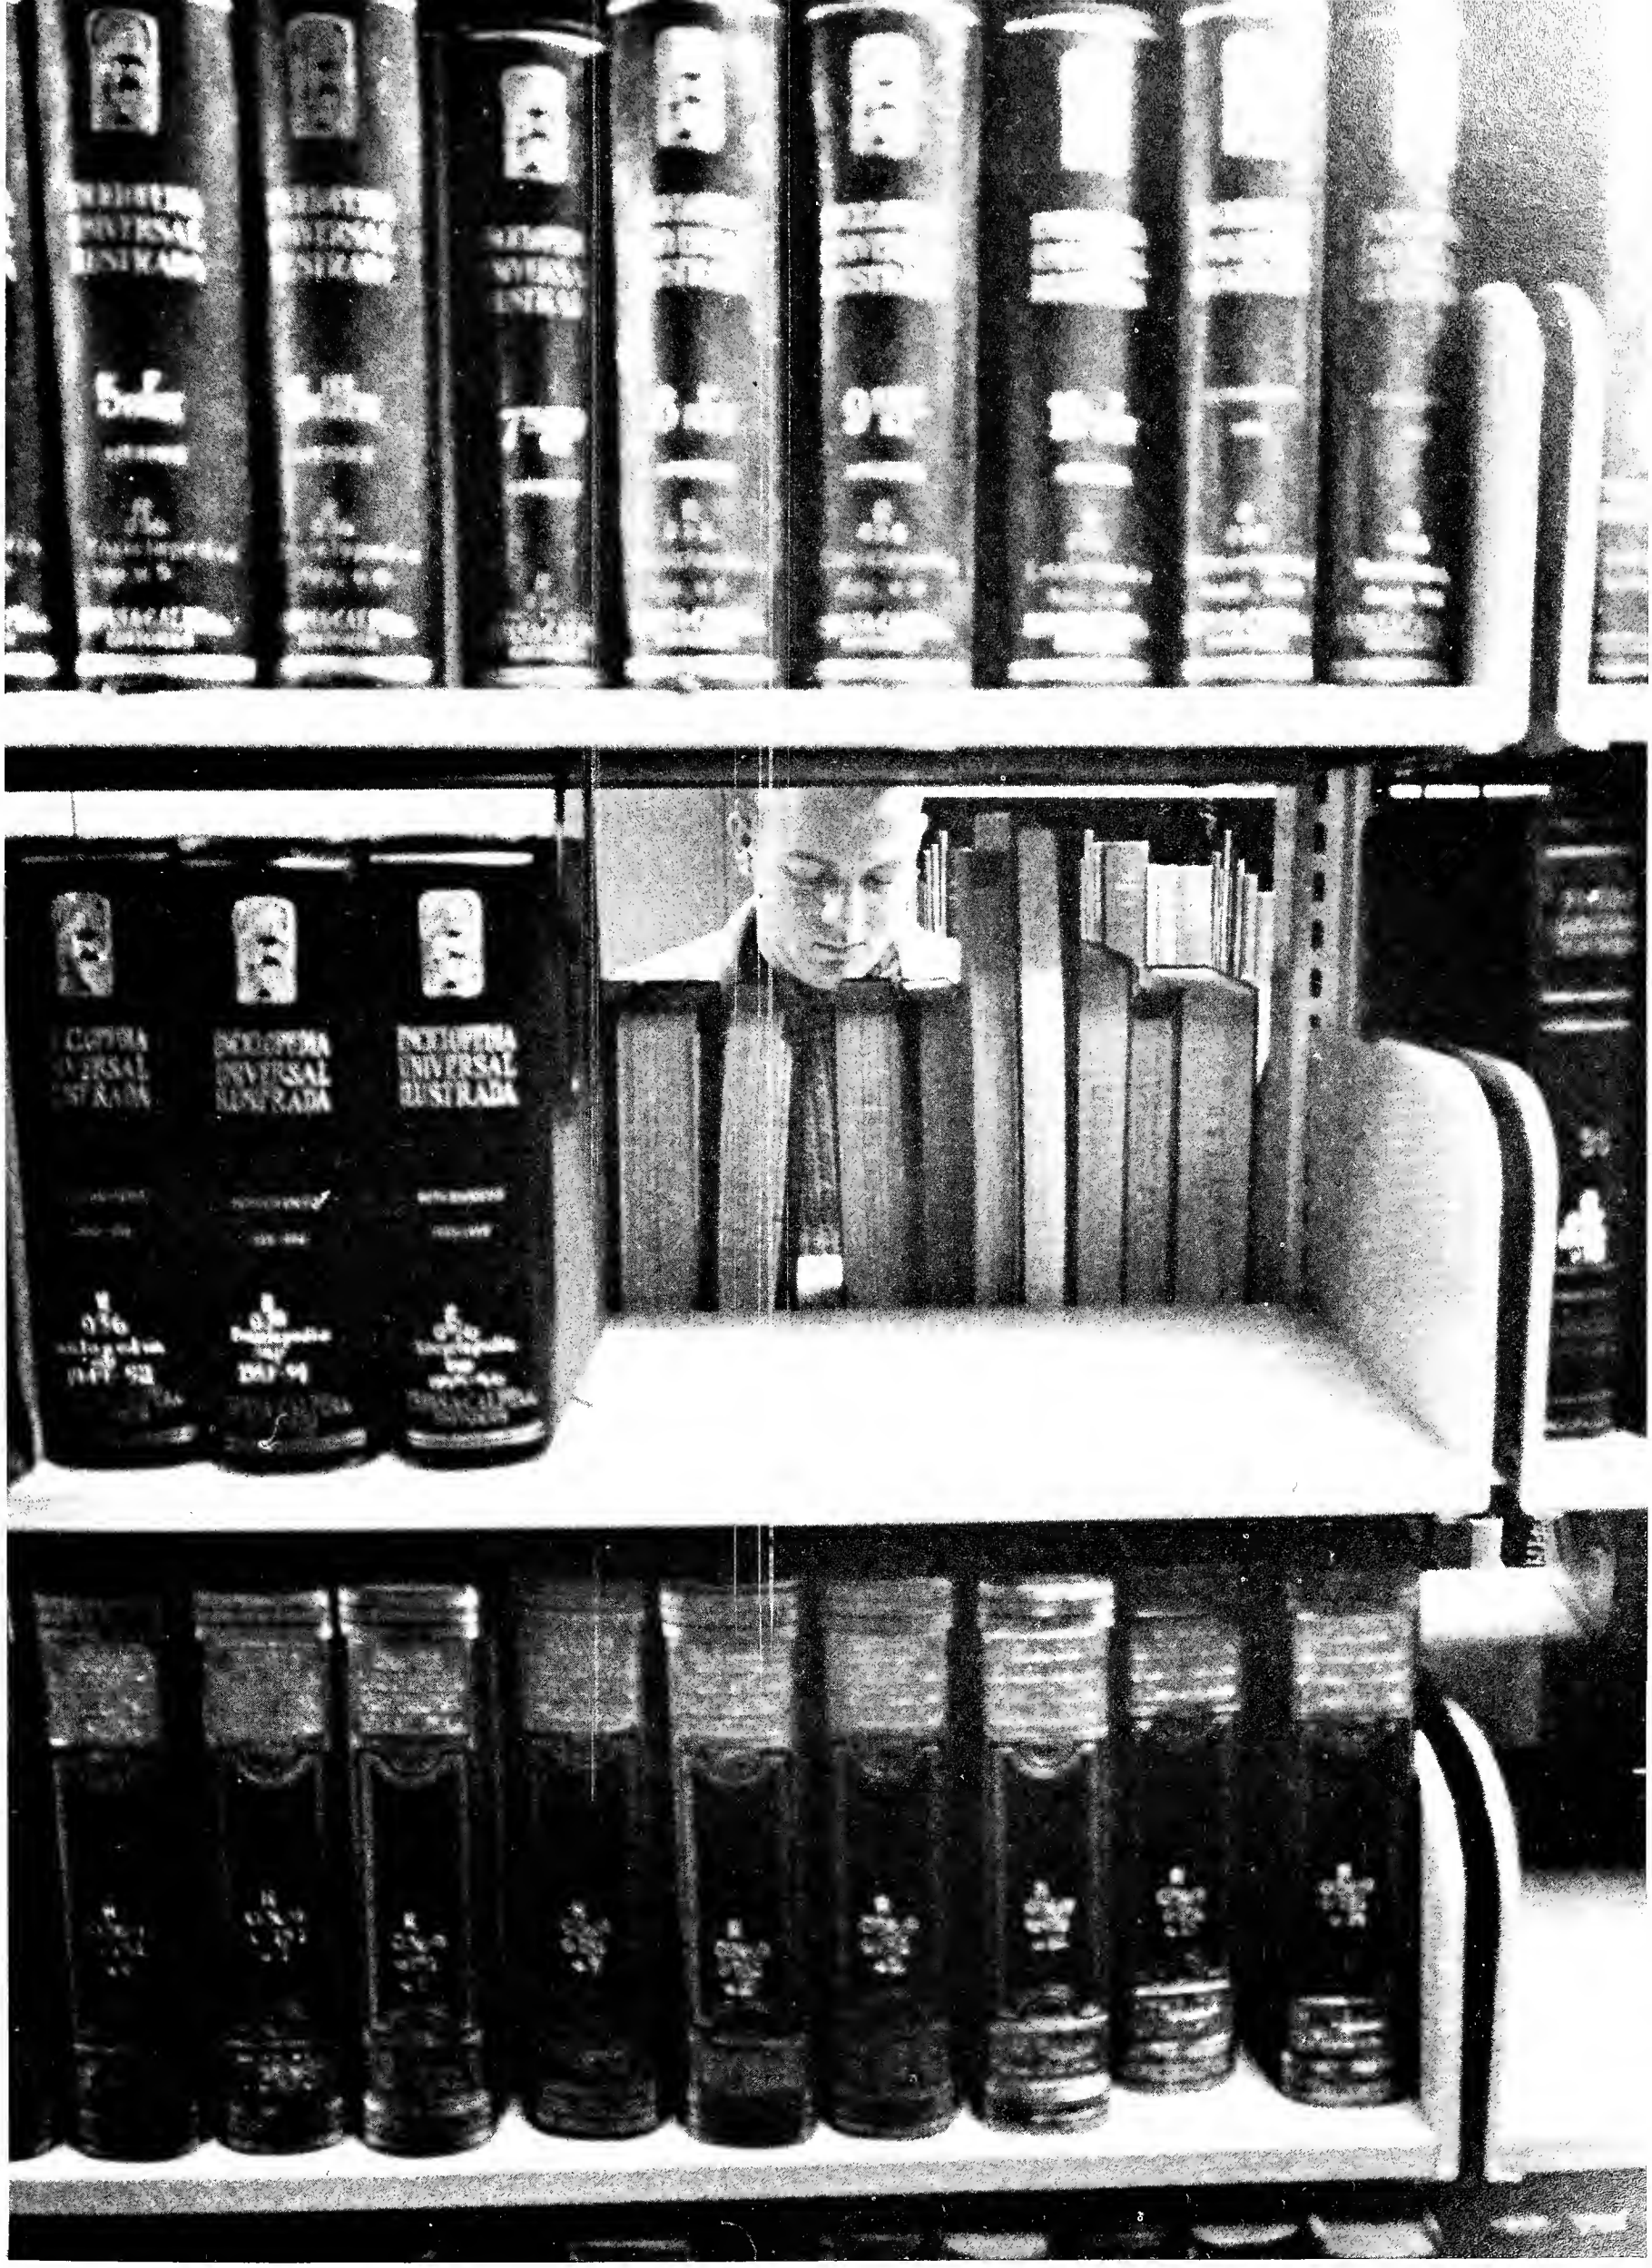
the liberty of opportunity and responsibility of acceptance

It is after careful consideration and with a sense of optimism that we dedicate the 1961 TALLY HO to Freedom—the liberty of opportunity and responsibility of acceptance. As with all things, there is limitation; thus it is, even of freedom. As the democratic principle is founded on the welfare of the group, so there must be some regulation imposed upon the individual so as to insure the welfare of the group and to maintain its ultimate freedom. This restraint may appropriately be called moderation.

The various aspects of freedom presented on the preceding pages brings us away from the grey realm of idealistic intangibles, and into the everyday world of practical, realistic specifics. Because we live in a land of democracy and plenty, we are faced daily with decisions and choices. The opportunity for success and fulfillment is here; it is the decisions of each of us that determine whether this privilege is abused or warranted. With growth and change, there is even more opportunity, but with it, added responsibility.

We began 1961 with new national, state, and university officials. The expansion program of Florida State is extending in all areas. This change—this freedom of growth—is accompanied by anticipation and hopes for the future. The unrealized potential is breathtaking in its possibilities and scope.

The challenge, the opportunity, exists for us. Ours is the liberty to do with as we want. With an awareness of our responsibility and the initiative to accept it, we justify the existence of this freedom we enjoy, but not until then. It is to Freedom—and ensuing opportunity—that we dedicate the '61 TALLY HO.



"WE ARE TODAY WHERE OUR THOUGHTS HAVE BROUGHT US; WE WILL BE TOMORROW WHERE THEY TAKE US...." Anonymous

Academics

Potential is fully realized only under capable guidance and leadership. At Florida State we have the advantage of both parts of this successful combination. . . .potential coupled with wise direction. Under the sound leadership of a conscientious faculty and administration, the capacity for growth within both the individual and the university facilities is reached. The tremendous efforts and contributions of faculty and administration members have created an atmosphere permeated with excellence and greatness.

SOCIAL FOUNDATIONS

THOUGHTFUL CONCENTRATION of Dr. Blackwell is seen as he gives attention to matters on which he must soon decide.

President Blackwell Welcomed to FSU

1961 commenced with the installation of a new President of the United States, a newly elected Governor, and our new university president, Dr. Gordon W. Blackwell. He and his charming family were enthusiastically welcomed by the entire campus. His engaging personality have gained him both respect and popularity among students and faculty. Through his dedication to education and his sound judgement, he has won the admiration of those with whom he works. Resigning his position as Chancellor of the Women's College of the University of North Carolina, Dr. Blackwell arrived in Tallahassee ahead of schedule in order to greet freshmen upon their arrival at FSU.

His easy informality, friendly manner, and strong sense of purpose have made lasting impressions on all. Stressing the vital role of publicly supported universities and the continuing contact of student and educator, President Blackwell guides the university with immutable enthusiasm, characteristic humility and an unwavering sense of responsibility.

FLORIDA'S NEW GOVERNOR, FARRIS BRYANT, REPEATS HIS OATH OF OFFICE TO STATE CHIEF JUSTICE ROBERTS AND AUDIENCE

FARRIS BRYANT
Governor, State of Florida

Governor Offers Educational Ideals

The Governor of Florida serves in many roles, among these is his important part in education. He appoints the State Board of Control, has veto power over measures passed by the legislature, and approves the University administrative structure. The Board of Education is composed of the Governor and his cabinet with the Governor acting as Chairman. By expressing his ideas on education, the governor is very influencial in shaping public opinion.

Governor Bryant was graduated from the University of Florida and Harvard Law School and became Florida's 34 governor on January 3, 1961. The inauguration took place on the capitol steps, followed by a colorful parade. That night the Governor and his wife led the grand march at the Inaugural Ball in Tully Gymnasium. Governor Bryant has served five full terms in the State Legislature including Speaker of the House in 1953 before being elected to the state's highest office last November.

Board of Control Promotes Progress

The Board of Control has jurisdiction over and control of the state institutions of higher learning. Its delegated powers include the authority to approve the budgets and programs of instruction for each school, and presenting a realistic picture of their financial status to the Florida State Legislature.

The Board recommends construction of needed buildings and facilities, and the forming of new universities, such as the University of South Florida. With the approval of the Board of Education, the Board of Control nominates the deans of newly organized colleges within the various institutions.

The Board of Control is composed of seven outstanding business or professional men, appointed by the Governor and approved by the State Senate. These men are from seven different counties, excluding those in which there is a state university, and are scheduled to meet once a month.

Administrators Set Highest Standards

Three outstanding fields are represented by Dr. Milton Carothers, Mr. Roderick Shaw, and Dean Werner Baum. Although distinct in duties and functions, the three fields are related in that they increase the quality of the educational program and develop the finest faculty and curriculum.

Dr. Carothers has been with FSU for seventeen years. Following the death of Dr. Strozier last April, he became the acting president, and this year he serves in the official capacity of Vice-President of Florida State University.

Dean Baum as Dean of Faculties holds the chief administrative office for academics. He assists various schools in constantly improving standards, and he also serves as the liason between the President and the schools and faculties.

As business manager, Mr. Shaw deals with a large number of employees and a great portion of the public. The business manager operates at every level and in every type of project in which the University participates.

Joint Cooperation Results in Policy

The broad policies of Florida State University as established by the State Board of Control are carried out by the President through his administrators to operate the organizations of the University. The President, as the chief executive of the University, operates under the Board's decisions, and it is the job of the administrators to carry out these decisions. The President's Cabinet includes the Dean of Faculties, Dean of Students, Business Manager, and Director of University Relations. Under these are other administrative units.

The administration has the complex job of guidance, bringing unity among students and faculty, and generally promoting the welfare of all concerned. At the same time effective communication must be maintained between the Board of Control and the Administration. It is of utmost importance that the administrative policies be fulfilled to the last detail to have an effective organization.

Expansive Graduate Program Conducted

The Graduate School operates eight separate functioning institutes in addition to handling all of the administrative details for the more than 1300 graduate students. These divisions which are all devoted to research and study are the Oceanographic Institute, the Institute of Governmental Research, the Institute of Human Development, the Computing Center, the Institute of Social Research, the Nuclear Research Program, the Institute of Public Affairs, and the Institute of Molecular Biophysics.

At present there are twenty-eight National Defense Education Act Fellowships. These fellowships are awarded only to doctoral students who are studying in the fields of math, history, and the humanities. In addition to the NDEA Fellowships, there are presently twenty-nine regular Graduate Fellowships. These are awarded by the Graduate School to applicants from all areas of study for work on both doctor's degrees and master's degrees.

THE OCEANOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE is using Snapper Sampler and other data in geologic and hydrographic study of Florida's West Coast Bays.

Arts and Sciences Gives Basic Study

All students have contact with the College of Arts and Sciences, which is concerned with the basic study of general and liberal training in the humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences. Guidance is offered in the program of General Education and in the various departments for satisfying majors in the College, for election by students in all divisions of the University, for foundation study in the professional schools, and for graduate study. Preprofessional training is provided for the fields of law, dentistry, engineering, and medicine. Students enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences may also become certified to teach on the secondary level.

Candidates for the bachelor's degree must comply with the general regulations governing bachelor's degree, must complete the requirements for a major, and must complete the two years of college foreign language study or the equivalent.

School of Business Prepares Executives

The School of Business provides a foundation program of collegiate study for business statesmanship so that its students will acquire a liberal knowledge concerning the changing social, economic, and political forces in business operations. A student may enter a variety of fields of business including marketing, accounting, economics finance, or Hotel and Restaurant Management.

An increasing number of grants and scholarships from insurance companies, banking companies, sales managers, and accounting firms are being given to the school. In this way research may be furthered in the growth of commerce and industry, the extent and density of markets, and the effects of tourism in various areas of Florida.

The School of Business places emphasis on subject matter which stresses the ability to reason logically, think creatively and imaginatively, communicate effectively, and reach justifiable conclusions.

Education Majors Have High Ideals

The School of Education, through its departments, and in cooperation with the Graduate School, aims for the superior education of all public and private school personnel for positions that require college or graduate school education. One-fourth of the students at Florida State University are graduated with degrees in Education. One-third of all graduate work and graduate degrees are given through the School of Education.

Programs of study in the School of Education are characterized by a high degree of cooperation with other schools and the departments of the University School with its 900 students in kindergarten through high school.

The School of Education in cooperation with other departments of the University, the State Department of Education, and the Public Educational Institutions of the State, holds grants and contracts totaling almost $800,000 for research and service.

Home Ec. Stresses Home and Family

Home Economics is concerned with the home and the family as they exist in our society. Its purpose is to strengthen the quality of family life, to contribute to the optimum development of the individuals it serves, and to contribute to the culture and enrichment of relationships of individuals within families in a society which recognizes the family as a basic unit and important to the nation.

Major programs attractive to both men and women at the undergraduate and graduate levels are offered in the Departments of Clothing and Textiles, Food and Nutrition, Home and Family Life, Home Demonstration Education, Home Economics Education and Institution Administration. These programs provide education for the profession growing out of the home.

Research is being conducted in a number of areas. Some of the programs pertain to fabrics; some to food and nutrition; others to problems of children in their environment.

Library School Is Looking To Future

The Library School, established in 1947 as a professional school, offers courses leading to the Master's degree in librarianship and in school materials service. In the Master Librarian Program, college graduates are prepared for positions in all types of libraries. They further educational and research programs in schools, colleges and universities. Also, they contribute to commercial and scientific progress. The School Materials Service Program prepares graduates for positions in schools and in Children's departments of public libraries.

The School cooperates with the College of Arts and Sciences in an interdivisional program leading to the Bachelor's degree. The Master's degree program in librarianship is accredited by the American Library Association, and the School is a member of the Association of American Library Schools. It has for its primary objective the professional preparation of all types of librarians.

School of Music Expands Program

The School of Music at Florida State has an overall objective of affording each music student a liberal education, as well as professional training in his specialized field. Because the cumulative nature of music demands continuing study, general education courses are dispersed over the entire four-year undergraduate period. Emphasis is placed upon a wide range of courses, some of which include: music appreciation and therapy, sacred music, and the history and literature of music.

Student participation is encouraged in seven University choral organizations and eight instrumental groups, which present many concerts on campus. Elective courses in music and private lessons are also open to all Florida State students.

All degrees, Bachelors through Doctorates, are awarded in accordance with the published regulations of the National Association of Schools of Music.

Nurses Accredited By National League

The Florida State University School of Nursing regards each person as an individual, and offers one the opportunity of becoming a superior and most capable person. It will guide the individual in making wise decisions and practicing sound mental and physical hygiene. By preparing men and women to meet health needs of Florida and their own community, it provides the direction for assuming the citizenship role in this modern world. The collegiate background in nursing will make a happier and more effective parent.

The school is accredited by the Florida State Board of Nursing and by the National League for Nursing. It was the first school in Florida with public health accreditation.

The preparation which the student nurse receives enables the graduate to function in beginning positions in all fields of nursing. Graduate nurses are prepared for administrative roles.

The School of Social Welfare offers a great variety of courses to the undergraduate and prepared him for one or a combination of interesting social occupations. Fields of special emphasis in the curriculum are criminology and marriage and family living. Courses are also offered which correlate with pre-law and religious education.

Moreover, an extensive graduate program is available, and students may study in such specialized fields as correctional institutions and juvenile care. Students from thirty different states have transferred in recent years to this school, and several foreign students are enrolled.

Upon receiving a degree from the school of Social Welfare, the graduate will find that his training and education qualify him for a variety of professional positions. He will also find that the curriculum has aided in preparing him to be an intelligent citizen and a good marital partner.

Army Plan Gives US Military Credit

The ROTC program was instituted on campus in 1951 with only 71 Cadets, at present there are 536. For the first time, the ROTC is accepting credit for courses taken in the university school toward completion of the advanced course, but drill is required for two years. The last two years is voluntary for the advanced student who is selected for his scholastic standing, physical fitness, and potential leadership. Upon graduation and completion of the advanced course, he is commissioned in the Army.

Starting this year, the ROTC Band played for all the freshmen football games, FSU functions and local activities. The Drill Team performed at the Christmas Festival in Ocala and in Mardi Gras. Pershing Rifles is an honorary for the basic cadets and the advanced cadets' honorary is the Scabbard and Blade. The highest honor achieved in ROTC is to be named a Distinguished Military Student. One receives this honor while in his senior year.

AROTC Advances With New Program

The AROTC saw its beginning at Florida State in 1950. The girl's marching group, Angel Flight, a national honorary for women, is an auxiliary to the Arnold Air Society. Nine Angel Flight members sang in the Glee Club for the first time this year. Also the Angel Flight was in the Christmas pageant in Ocala along with the AROTC Band. The band also played at Mardi Gras as well as participating in local functions. Since 1957, the Flight Instruction Program has given Senior Cadets 35 hours of flight instruction and ground study. Also in the AROTC department are the Rifle Team and the Driil Team.

Under a new program, the Air Science Division of ROTC will accept credit for university courses toward AROTC requirements. The Air Force will use the credit for their basic program, as well as the advanced course. The AROTC, a thousand strong, is giving their cadets the basic background for their military obligation that will be completed later.

Grunwald Selected Outstanding Teacher

Florida State University's outstanding professor for the year 1960-61, Dr. Ernest Grunwald, once answered when asked what qualities a good student should possess: ". . .A good student. . .is sincerely interested in learning some particular subject. . .as well as possible. . .if a student attends to the learning, the grades will take care of themselves." The native of Wuppertal, Germany, could well have been describing himself. He earned a B.A. in physics and another in chemistry at the University of California, and won his Ph.D. there in 1947.

A faculty member at FSU since 1949, Dr. Grunwald has gained international status while carrying a full share of administrative and teaching duties. He participates enthusiastically in freshman chemistry for the general education program with the same interest he exhibited in the formulation of the Ph.D. program in Chemistry at Florida State. The first Ph.D. awarded in chemistry at FSU went to one of his students.

At 36, Dr. Grunwald is the youngest man ever selected as Outstanding Professor by his fellow instructors at Florida State. He has written more than fifty research documents which have been published in research publications, and is the co-author of a text for the general education chemistry course. He received the American Chemical Society's Annual Award in Pure Chemistry in 1959; prior to this he received the Frank B. Jewett post-doctoral fellowship, and in 1955 he studied at the Weizman institute in Rehovoth, Israel on the Chaim Weizman Fellowship. His major research interests have been the general area of chemical reaction rates, and the mechanism by which chemical reactions proceed.

Outside the laboratory and classroom Dr. Grunwald and his wife enjoy canoeing on the rivers and lakes near Tallahassee, with which they have become familiar during their stay here. Dr. Grunwald is spending a year's leave of absence at the Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill, New Jersey. The fourth distinguished professor to win the recognition of Outstanding Professor of the year, Dr. Grunwald has said: "The things that we are interested in are hard to measure, and the things that we measure easily are frequently not interesting."

According to Dr. Michael Kasha, director of the Institute, the equipment will be available not only for Institute research but for the various departments which could not afford to buy it within most departmental budgets.

FSU, which will receive the funds over a six-year-period, will enable chemists, biologists, and other scientists to work on problems of life at the molecular level, using physical science methods.

SEA'S AGRICULTURE IS ONE OF MANY STUDIES AT OCEANOGRAPHIC INSTITUTE'S MARINE LABORATORY AT ALLIGATOR HARBOR

Institute Handles Extensive Research

The Oceanographic Institute is the center of research and instruction in marine science at Florida State University. The departments of Biology, Geology, Chemistry, and Meteorology are all connected with the Institute.

The Oceanographic Institute has three main objectives: to provide facilities for the training of students in marine science, especially at the graduate level; to conduct and encourage research on marine problems in its geographical area; and to carry on applied research related to the utilization of the marine resources of Florida. The facilities are also available to professors for individual research.

Field and experimental research and instruction are carried on at the Institute's Marine Laboratory at Alligator Harbor, which is 45 miles south of Tallahassee, on the Gulf of Mexico. A laboratory, residence, superintendent's house, and a boathouse-shop are maintained on the grounds.

Equipment for chemical, hydrographic, geological, and biological research are available at the Laboratory. The Institute also maintains a field laboratory at St. Andrew's Bay, Panama City.

GATHERING OYSTERS is Dr. R. W. Menzel, as he studies the possibilities of breeding them to become disease resistant.

CHECKING SEA MATERIALS at Alligator Point are Kaoru Horadi and his oceanography professor Dr. Sidney W. Fox.

Geology Research Assists Navy Work

One of the major research projects of the Geology Department is the analysis of oceanic bottom samples brought back from the Navy's Operation Deep-Freeze. The purpose of this research is to determine the texture, structure, and rate of accumulation of the ocean bottom.

A project which is taking place in Florida is the study of radioactive elements in the groundwater of the state. This study is being done as part of the comprehensive nuclear research carried on by Florida State University. Its purpose is to find out what happens to the radioactive daughter elements of such elements as Uranium and Thorium and whether they go into solution in the groundwater or become fixed in the soil.

The department also does continuing research in Paleontology, comparing fossils which are gathered on the many field trips made by the students and professors of the department.

THE FOSSILS on the table are being compared with the examples in the case by these two Geology majors for a Paleontology course.

TWO GEOLOGY STUDENTS are diligently comparing microscope slides with fossil plates in a textbook.

AN ARTICULATION TEST, part of an extensive battery, is given by Mrs. Pat Bloch, therapist, to a child in Speech and Hearing Clinic.

Speech Therapy Is Service Of Clinic

The Speech and Hearing Clinic is involved in two main research projects. One is the study of treatment of cleft palate children and the other is the longitudinal study of the speech and language development in twins.

The Speech Clinic conducts every summer an Intensive Residential Therapy for children with cleft palate disorder. The purpose of the project is to find the most efficient and effective ways of treatment. The Clinic retests the subjects six months after treatment to see how effective it is over a long period of time.

The twin study is being conducted over a five-year period in conjunction with the Psychology department. The object of the study is to determine the age of onset of language, the development of sound discrimination. the ability to imitate sound patterns, the development of vocabulary of recognition, and the vocabulary of use and sentence.

THIS ELABORATE EQUIPMENT is used by Mrs. Pat Bloch to test for hearing deficiences in this child at the FSU Clinic.

STUDENTS AND PROFESSOR PREPARE FOR UNDERWATER EXPERIMENTS AS THE STUDENTS ADJUST THE ECHO RANGING EQUIPMENT

BEING CARRIED IN "PORPOISE BATHTUBS" overland to Alligator Harbor was a trying experience for the porpoises.

Porpoise Research Done In Psychology

A professor of experimental psychology at FSU, Dr. Winthrop N. Kellogg, has just finished several years of research with porpoises.

Dr. Kellogg's research brought out for the first time the fact that a porpoise navigates the ocean by means of reflected echoes. It beams a succession of sonar impulses ahead of itself, and detects obstacles by listening to the echoes which are reflected back from them. The study of how porpoises "see with their ears" is of importance to our National Defense as a means of improving man-made radar.

The experimental psychologist and his assistants conducted research in various places where porpoises are kept in captivity. Finally a sort of "porpoise laboratory" was constructed at the FSU Marine Laboratories at Alligator Harbor. Here the porpoises were put through many experiments to determine and measure their "echo-ranging" ability. This required specially-built underwater apparatus, as well as the use of electronic and acoustical devices for listening to and analyzing noises made underwater.

This experiment was one of the real scientific discoveries to be made at FSU in the field of Comparative psychology and animal behavior.

Theater Research Covers Many Areas

The Speech Department at FSU does research in many different fields. Research is conducted in the fields of theater, television, and teaching methods.

One of the students in the department is doing a project on the various methods of classroom instruction, using material obtained from classes which have been taught by the lecture method, educational television, and films. The object of this research is to determine the effectiveness to the different methods.

A faculty member in the department is going to do research on the attitudes of faculty members toward educational television, whether they feel that it helps or hinders them in their teaching.

A Speech Department graduate student designed and helped to build the sets for the production of The King and I. This project is for his master's thesis. The department also carries on research in the field of historical theater, using the Asolo Theater at Sarasota as a summer laboratory.

University Sponsors Broadcast Program

DIRECTOR OF UNIVERSITY RELATIONS, Dr. Griffin, and Roy Flynn study schedule in the projection room of WFSU-TV.

University Broadcasting Services, directed by Roy Flynn, is responsible for WFSU-FM-Radio and WFSU-Television and film production. Broadcasting Services is a department of the Divisions of University Relations under Dr. John A. Griffin. Full time professional staff are employes in key positions assisted by students, many of whom are Radio-TV majors in the interdivisional degree-program, coordinated by Thomas Wright.

WFSU-FM-Radio, which is affiliated with the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, has programs for seventy hours each week of general cultural interest.

WFSU-TV is licensed to the Board of Control of the State of Florida and the Florida Educational Television Commission acting for and in behalf of FSU. The station broadcasts credit courses, informal adult education programs and programs for out-of-school children. Also, the station features by video-tape the offerings of the National Education Television and Radio Center.

The Department has received national and international awards for film production this past year.

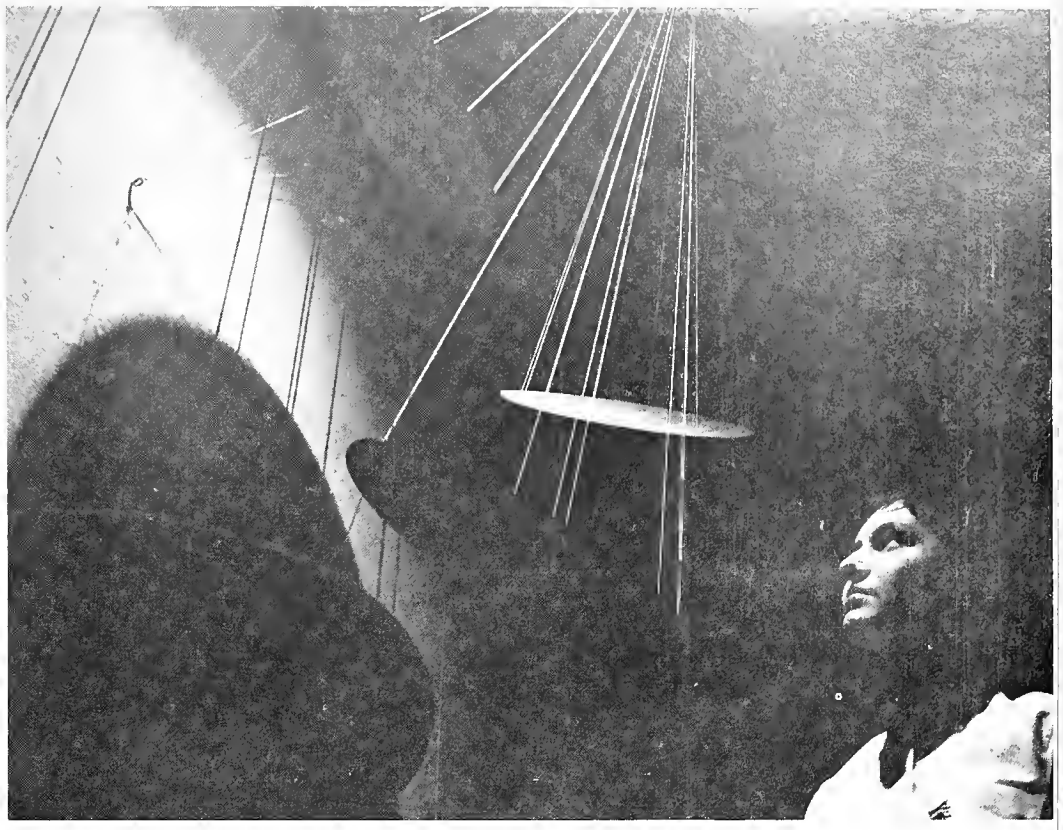
Exhibitions Enrich Fine Arts Program

The Florida State Art Gallery and Museum, located on the second floor of the Seminole Club, are maintained for the enjoyment of the University faculty, students and visitors.

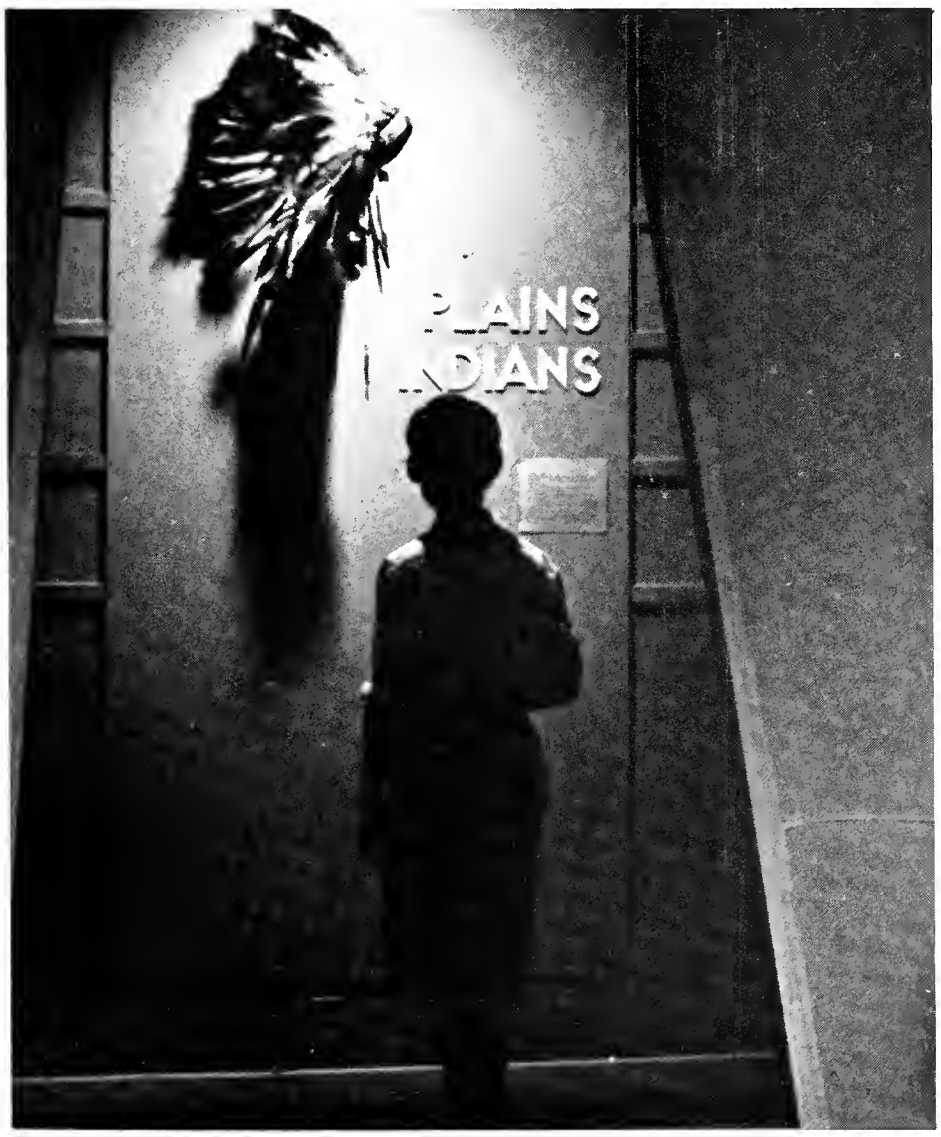
The Art Gallery, which is a division of the Art Department, exhibits such works as sculpture, painting, collages and crafts. These exhibitions come from students, faculty and from other institutions of art across the country.

The Museum, directed by the Department of Anthropology, presents an interesting and accurate account of the stages in the development of man. Each exhibit attempts to fit the mood of the material by the use of color, lighting and sound. Such exhibitions as The Plains Indians has been presented using this technique.

The exhibits at both the Gallery and the Museum are changed often throughout the year to present the public with a full and more enriching program.



COLLAGE COMPOSITIONS of pasted materials were shown at the Art Gallery as the opening exhibit for the fall semester.



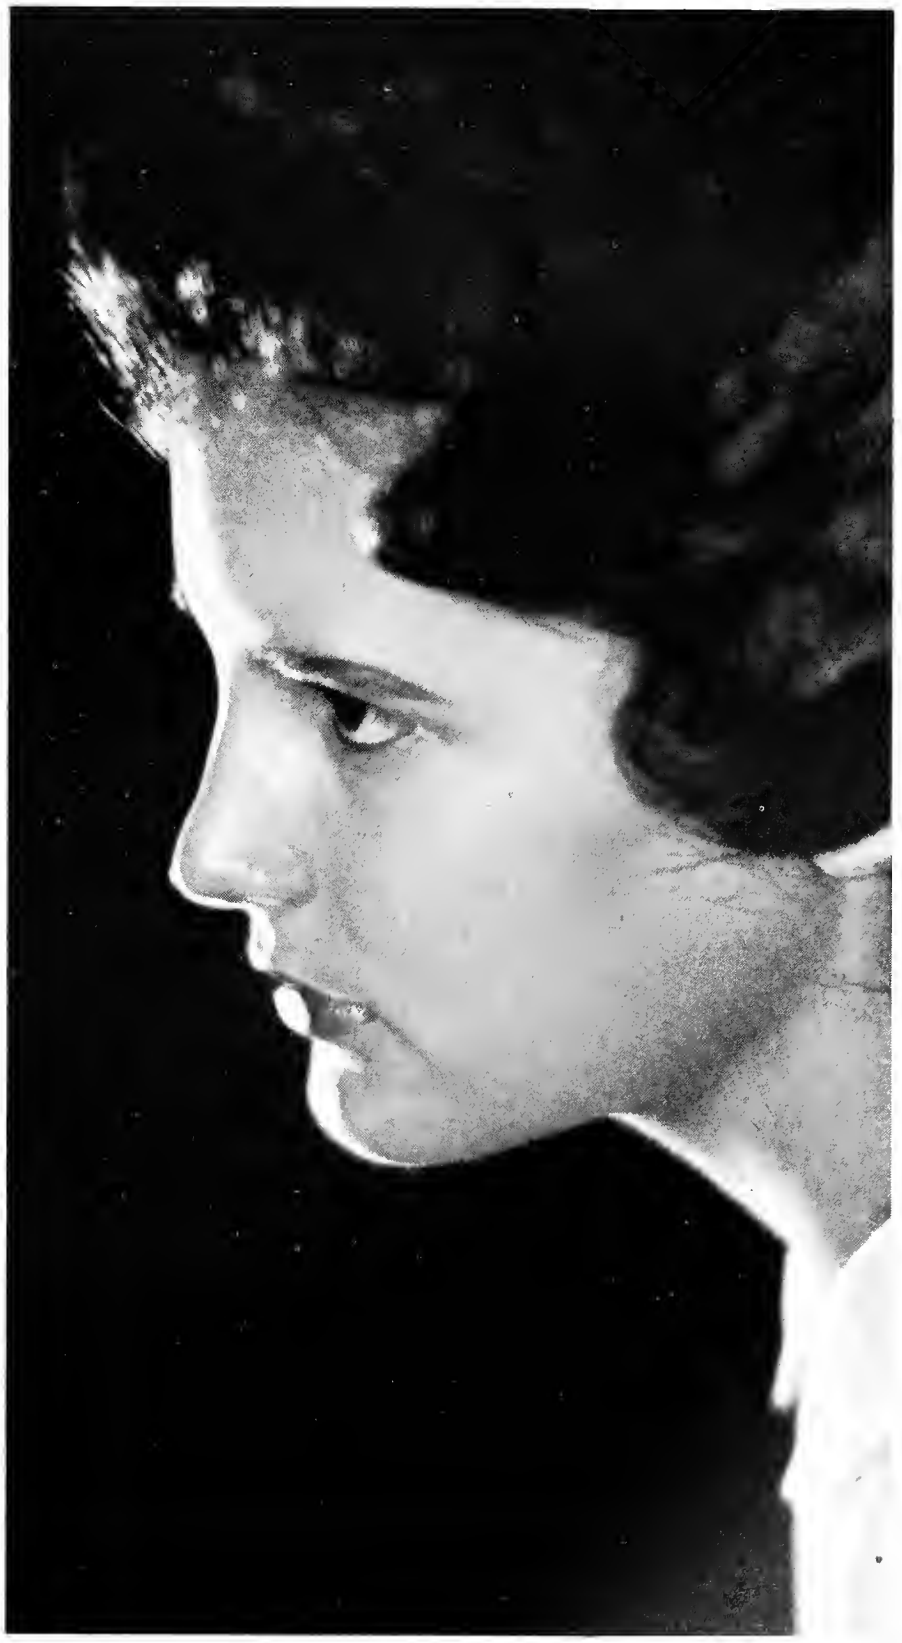
CULTURE OF THE AMERICAN PLAINS INDIANS is preserved and artistically displayed by the Department of Anthropology.

ABSTRACTIONS, such as these works, are among the various types exhibited at the University Gallery.

Features

These are the highlights. . . .those very special moments that we remember and cherish. All the excitement, anticipations, and sometimes anxiety that went into Homecoming, Circus Weekend and the many other campus-wide events during the year are brought vividly before us with a word or a picture. The moods that encompassed the entire university during registration, on the first cold morning, and the weeks when the dogwoods showered the campus with blossoms. . . .these are inseparable parts of life at FSU.

Cissi Mansour



1961 Tally Ho Queen

The Tally Ho proudly presents Cissy Mansour, 1961 Beauty Queen. With brown eyes, black hair, and delicate features, she has won many beauty titles. A freshman from Barnesville, Georgia, Cissy was sponsored by her dormitory, Broward Hall. She is active on campus in Kappa Delta Sorority, Circus, Village Vamps, Freshman Flunkies, and the Modeling Board. Her major is fashion merchandising.

The Tally Ho Beauty Contest was open to all FSU coeds, and the yearbook staff invited all campus groups to sponsor candidates. Contestants were judged by members of the administration, faculty members, and photography experts. Entrants were chosen on the basis of photogenic qualities, poise, and beauty. Selected from among 150 contestants, the Queen's attendants are Alta Hales, Pinky Clough, Linda Gormley, Gaye Boardman, and Linda Jackson

Alta Hales

Alta's outside interests are sewing, fishing, and swimming. This versatile beauty is a Zeta Tau Alpha pledge and sponsored by Sigma Chi fraternity. Her major is elementary education, and in the afternoon you will probably find her at the circus lot. Alta hails from Winter Haven.

Gaye Boardman

A sophomore from Atlanta, Gaye is sponsored by Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. This statuesque beauty is majoring in fashion merchandising. Her campus activities include her sorority, Kappa Delta, Gymkana, and Fashion Incorporated, and in her leisure time, Gaye enjoys modeling, gymnastics, and sports.

Linda Gormley

Tallahassee proudly claims this pert and enthusiastic beauty.
Linda is active on campus in cheerleading and as Under Secretary of State.
She is sponsored by her sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta.
Linda lists her outside interests as diving and all sports.
She is a junior majoring in health education.

Pinky Clough

Sponsored by Delta Tau Delta fraternity, Pinky is a freshman from Tarpon Springs. Her interests are musical as she plays the Hammond organ, the saxophone, and enjoys interpretive dancing. A talented beauty with brown hair, brown eyes, and a charming smile, she is a biological science major.

Linda Jackson

Linda is new to Florida State this year as a junior transfer.
She is a Kappa Alpha Theta pledge majoring in social studies education.
Interested in student government, Linda is also a Village Vamp.
Modeling, tennis, and bowling are among her interests.
Her dorm, East Landis, is her sponsor.

First Weeks Reveal A Strange Contrast

In the fall season, as in no other season, the old and the new are placed side by side. Falling leaves, representing a dying out, contrast with the influx of students ready to begin the school year. The first week of classes, the buying of books, the excitement of being in different surroundings seem strangely incongrous with the shorter days and cooler winds of autumn. Still the weather has a great influence on the attitudes of everyone. With the coming of fall, thoughts of swimming, water skiing, and summer picnics are discarded, because they are no longer practical, in favor of thoughts of studying, term papers, and worthwhile activities. However, there is enough time left to spend enjoying the beauty of the countryside or just walking across campus on a brisk evening as the sun is going down. Silently but constantly the new and the old blend to give the fall months a melancholy flavor, a nostalgia that is superior in many ways to winter's harshness and spring's exuberance.

WALKING BACK FROM CLASS through multitudes of red and brown leaves makes everyone realize that fall has really come.

Fall Events Plunge Campus into Whirl

No sooner had the upperclassmen and freshmen unpacked their bags than the mad pace of college life caught them up and placed them in the middle of numerous activities. The rigors of orientation—tests, consultations with advisors, registration—prepared the freshmen for their future years at FSU. The upperclassmen also had to contend with registration and its frustrations. Gradually under the sobering influence of classes, the student body settled down somewhat, but not for long. By this time the football season was in full swing, and everyone was anxious to watch the Seminoles play. The FSU-Florida game drew many students to Gainesville to root for the team. Then fall elections and rush provided both boys and girls with many opportunities for meeting new people. Finally, after the last party was over and the last ballot counted, the campus took a brief pause for breath. Soon things began to hum again as various organizations planned their decorations and built their floats for Homecoming.

Decorations, Parade Create Enthusiasm

The buzz of activity increased as Homecoming came nearer and nearer. Late into Thursday night sororities, fraternities, and dormitories busily painted and hammered in an attempt to finish their decorations and floats on schedule. Westcott pool, glimmering under red, blue and green spotlights, seemed also to take part in all the activity. Even early Friday morning the campus was awake putting the final touch on their creations. Soon after classes were dismissed, the floats moved to the stadium where they were placed in position for the parade. At two o'clock a huge crowd impatiently waited for the ROTC Color Guard to lead the parade down College Avenue and through town. Originality, imagination, and mechanical skill showed in each of the float entries, and time and again the crowd broke into applause. Enthusiasm mounted as each float went by, and so, when the final entry had turned back toward the stadium, everyone knew that the weekend had officially gotten underway. They now looked forward to the Pow-Wow when the winners of the house decorations and floats would be announced.

Colorful Pow-Wow Opens Festivities

The presentation of the Homecoming Queen and her four attendants launched the 1960 Pow-Wow. Enclosed in five life-size footballs, each attendant waited to be revealed to the audience as her name was called. The identity of the Queen, Charlotte Goodman, was announced last. Willou Copeland, Rita Garnett, Deanna Lumpkin, and Martha Strom comprised the court. While the Queen and attendants went to take their places on the Queen's Float, the winning entries drove around the stadium. Five were chosen by the judges for beauty, originality, humor, all-around quality, and appropriateness to the Homecoming theme, FSU LEADS THE WAY. At this time the trophies for the most outstanding house decorations were awarded to Pi Kappa Phi, Pi Beta Phi, Magnolia Hall, West Hall, and the Baptist Student Union. Next, each of the four classes in turn took the field to dramatize in a skit some phase of college life. As a finale, Theatre Dance members silhouetted against a blaze of white fireworks, performed a ritual dance. Although the stadium was soon emptied, it would again be packed for the anticipated game with Kentucky.

Surge of Activity Closes Homecoming

Saturday dawned bright and sunny, a perfect day for the game. The campus was overflowing with excited students and alumni. About a half an hour before game time, the stadium was already full, and everyone really began to feel a football spirit. The Seminoles played a wonderful game, and, as the sun sunk behind the stadium, the crowd knew that soon Homecoming would be over. Evening gradually descended, and the activity moved from the stadium to Westcott Auditorium where the Brothers Four, Jill Corey, and Tom O'Horgan were presenting a Variety Show. All too soon it was time for the Homecoming Dance. Tully Gym, decorated in a jungle motif with masks, shields, and spears, became alive as people danced to the lilting music of the Glenn Miller orchestra or talked together. Homework, classes, and books seemed far away and almost unreal. As the last strains echoed across the dance floor and everyone turned toward the various dormitories, sorority and fraternity houses for the night, they realized that Homecoming was now only a pleasant memory.

Talent and Variety Highlight Gymkana

Dedicated to the Japanese Olympic Gymnastic Team who won the Olympic Team Championship in Rome this past summer, the 1960 Gymkana was built around the theme of international friendship as expressed by the word YUJO. Each act was called by its Japanese name and reference was made to the country where that particular act had first become popular. The high bar, the side horse, the parallel bars, and the still rings all served as the means by which our gymnasts displayed their excellent training and talent. The audience sat spellbound as both men and women whirled through space or seemed to support themselves on thin air. Other attractions, interspersed throughout the program, included such things as a judo exhibition, several dance numbers, a trumpet solo, and the Tallahassee Tumbling Tots. After the show was over, it was easy to repeat these last words of the Gymkana pledge, "All our praise we give to thee. GYMKANA, may we loyal be."

Linda Walton Wears Miss Gymkana Crown

On Saturday night, the 1960 Miss Gymkana was announced. Chosen from a court of twenty-two, the new Queen had to possess charm, poise, and a willingness to cooperate with Gymkana personnel. Linda Walton fulfilled all of these qualifications. Not only did she design her own costume, a sari which represented India, but she painted the Buddha which served as a backdrop for the four night show. The Queen and each member of her court dressed in costumes of different countries. Peggy Bruce, wearing Uncle Sam's red, white, and blue, was the runner up, and the other princesses were Gay Boardman, Madeline Mahoney, Liz Blume, Muareen Curran, and Joyce Hinton. Until next year, Miss Walton will be the official representative of Gymkana at all gymnastic functions. Although Gymkana has ended, the ideal of good sportsmanship which the show promoted lives on in all who watched the production.

Derby and Auction Help Campus Chest

In the weeks following Gymkana, the Soap Box Derby, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta and Phi Delta Theta, and the Slave Auction, sponsored by Delta Tau Delta, were held. Each one provided an afternoon of fun and excitement; yet, each had a more functional purpose—to raise money for the Campus Chest. Promptly at one thirty p.m., the racers began to line up at Westcott gate. Then car after car whizzed by the cheering crowd which lined both sides of College Avenue. When the dust had finally settled, it was announced that the Zeta Tau Alpha-Sigma Chi car had won. Several days later, Delta Tau Delta pledges and actives, dressed in crocker sacks, made their way toward Westcott pool. Every slave had to perform in some way, dancing, singing, or such, after which he would be put up for sale and would go to the highest bidder. Soon all the Delts were busy doing whatever their buyers wished.

Sigma Chi Derby Is Rollicking Affair

Competition was keen among sororities at the Sigma Chi Derby. It had begun early in the morning when the various groups had gone down to the Hockey Field to choose a site for their booth. Then they decorated it with crepe paper, colored cardboard, and any other material their imaginations hit upon. By the time of the Derby, the field was sparkling with vivid color, and the booths were filled with girls singing or cheering for their contestants. The first event, an obstacle race, was followed by the key hunt, the bat relay race, and the tug-of-war. Here the sororities pitted strength, speed, and physical prowess against one another. In the dec-a-pledge contest each group had a chance to display ingenuity and originality. The highlight of the afternoon came when Alta Ann Hales was named Queen of the Derby by a panel of three judges. The secret event, a pie throwing contest, closed the Derby. Because the Zeta Tau Alphas won the overall trophy, they especially enjoyed the afternoon.

Winter Harshness Shifts Emphasis

When the cold blasts of winter began to shake the last tenacious leaves from the trees, students bundled up in heavy coats and looked longingly at the sky for signs of snow. Most sought refuge behind closed doors and in front of open fires. The library became a focus point as everyone studied for exams and wrote term papers. Around ten o'clock at night, the Sweet Shop and Corner filled with people taking a break, and steaming cups of coffee and hot chocolate cluttered the tables. The campus in keeping with the change of weather assumed a more serious atmosphere. The emphasis had shifted from football games and outdoor activity to studying, concerts, plays, and Artist Series. In Conradi Theater, student actors and actresses performed in plays such as "Juno and the Paycock" before delighted audiences. From Westcott the strains of "Getting to Know You" and "Hello, Young Lovers" floated over the campus as the Opera Guild put on their production of the "King and I." As December faded into January, the change in tone became more apparent as everyone found programs of special interest.

IN A LIGHTHEARTED VEIN, THE KING AND I with its score of joyful music sent everyone from the theatre humming.

BY USING FACIAL EXPRESSION and graceful, ballet-type movements, Marcel Marceau deftly portrayed the phases of life.

Season Abounds In Good Entertainment

The Artist series by bringing professional performers of all kings to Florida State stimulated interest among students. Each artist gave two performances, and the audience expressed its approval by recalling him to the stage for encore after encore. Theodor Uppman started the season and was followed by Marcel Marceau, the master of pantomime. The National Ballet of Canada and Archibald MacLeish's Pulitzer-Prize winning play "J.B." provided an entirely different type of entertainment. Scattered throughout these heavier presentations were many programs of a lighter nature. The Four Freshmen, Shelley Berman, and the Cumberland Three held the audience in the palms of their hands as they sang or made caustic comments about conditions in this modern world. In addition to the Artist Series, other programs helped to make the season full of opportunities. The highlight came with the premiere performance of Patrick Welch's "Assignment in Judea." Part of the roles were handled by professionals and part by students. This combination caused the play to be performed before capacity audiences. With the presentation of the opera "Tosca," the season began to draw to a close.

Lectures Expand Cultural Program

In order to round out the cultural program for the year, the University Lecture Committee planned lectures of various types. Chinese Ambassador George Yeh pointed out the dangers of peaceful coexistence to an audience of interested and concerned citizens. Later on, Bennett Cerf's humorous anecdotes and light manner caused everyone to relax and forget pressing assignments. Memorably reading the classics, Charles Laughton ended the University Series. However, interspersed throughout these programs were the Last Lecture Series presented by Mortar Board. Outstanding professors, such as Dr. John Spratt, Dr. George Holschuh, Dr. Lewis Killian, and Dr. Jackson Ice, were the lecturers. A different kind of lecture could be heard during Religious Emphasis Week. The purpose of the week was to bring students into contact with religious problems, to take them from an intellectual vacuum, and to help them form their own answers to these problems. Revolving around the theme of "Conscious on Campus," the week was a successful one. The speakers included Dr. Waldo Beach, Dr. Isabel Rogers, Dr. Israel Gerber, and Dr. Duke McCall. Their contribution to the week was great.

Campus Sing Won By DZ and ROTC

The annual Campus Sing, held the first weekend of March, proved to be a big success. That much practice and planning had preceded the performance was evident as all the groups sang in the preliminaries on Saturday. The songs ranged from religious ones such as "Ave Maria" to the more traditional favorites of "Dixie" and "Night and Day" and finally to such novelty numbers as "Chit-Chat" or "I Feel Pretty." The thirty-eight participating groups used costumes and different shades of lighting to heighten the effect. Dormitories, sororities, fraternities, and the Air Force ROTC entered. Each group realized that winning an award was not the most important thing. The worth of Campus Sing came in working together, doing the best job possible, and most of all in having fun. The six finalists were Delta Zeta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Landis Hall, Air Force ROTC, Pi Kappa Phi, and Phi Delta Theta. These performed again on Sunday. Long after the last notes had sounded, the spirit of having done something together remained.

Originality Sets Tarpon Show Apart

By doing their own choreography and directing and by designing all their costumes, Tarpon Club members used their abilities to present a production full of originality, talent, and zest. Music and lighting added the proper touch needed to make the show seem professional. Centering around the theme of "Spotlight on the News," the program consisted of nine scenes taken from the news of the day. There was a number for the headline, the lovelorn column, the comics, the weather forecast, the society page, the sports page, and even for the horoscope. The thirty members of Tarpon practice for the show, which they put on annually, for most of the year. The hour-long production rushes by, and each of the four nights it was given the audience was enthusiastic in its approval. During the year, Tarpon travels about the state performing at various functions. Thus they bring credit to Florida State constantly and stand as but another representative of the versatility of our University.

Spring Provides A Welcome Reprieve

After being confined by winter winds and rains, students felt unbounded joy as gentle breezes and fresh showers predicted the coming of spring and freedom. Once again the out of doors was invaded. The reservation became the focus for everyone who wished to leave all thoughts of books far behind. An exhilarating sailboat ride across Lake Bradford or an icy swim in its waters was indeed removed from the cramped classroom. When at last the student returned to campus, he did so with a clearer mind and with more determination to study. Soon, however, his attention was distracted by the smell of honeysuckle, the beauty of the azaleas, or the warm sunshine. A walk would perhaps give him enough opportunity to daydream, but probably he would want to take off again for the reservation or a trip to the coast. Concerts under the stars, dormitory dances, fraternity and sorority weekends all added to the atmosphere of spring and made it even harder to concentrate on homework. Still without this reprieve it would have been impossible to get through final exams.

A DAY AT THE RESERVATION includes many activities, such as swimming, which helps students to really enjoy themselves.

Circus Acts Demand Endless Practicing

Beginning early in the fall, the circus, appropriately named Flying High, continues to practice throughout the year. Under the able direction of Coach Jack Haskin, the newcomers choose certain acts and gradually become proficient in them while the veteran circus members spend their time perfecting their performances and branching out into various new activities. Every afternoon the circus lot is alive with people juggling, balancing on poles, flying through the air, and riding on unicycles. Many times the circus is called on to present a show for organizations all over the South. For those connected with the circus, the school year is dotted with trips which give them a chance to show off their skill and to taste the glamour and excitement of putting on a bang-up show. The months of practice and the ache of tired muscles are forgotten and only the magic aura surrounding the performance remains. Working toward the ideals of sound bodies, muscular control, grace, and beauty, the Flying High troupe not only enjoys performing for others but also enjoys performing just for the sheer fun of it.

ALTHOUGH SHE PERFORMS WITH GRACE, Sharon Coons can attest to the fact that mastering the giant whirl is not easy.

Final Show Exceeds Every Expectation

The spirit of cooperation, always evident on the circus lot, reached its peak as time for the four night spring show drew near. For months everyone had been planning sets, costumes, and new ways of presenting the acts. Because Family Weekend and Circus Weekend coincided, there was an audience of parents and alumni as well as the student body. Almost before anyone realized it, opening night had arrived. The daring trapeze and tight wire acts thrilled and amazed the crowd. It was hard to imagine that these performers were not professional. The crazy antics of the clowns, the sparkling dance routines, and the total beauty of the show pleased young and old alike. Transported to a land of wonder, the audience gasped or laughed as the occasion warranted, and at the end everyone applauded madly. It was a show truly representative of months of practice and hours of ingenious thinking.

TO THE JANUARY GRADUATES, PRESIDENT BLACKWELL EXPRESSES HIS HOPES FOR THEIR FUTURE

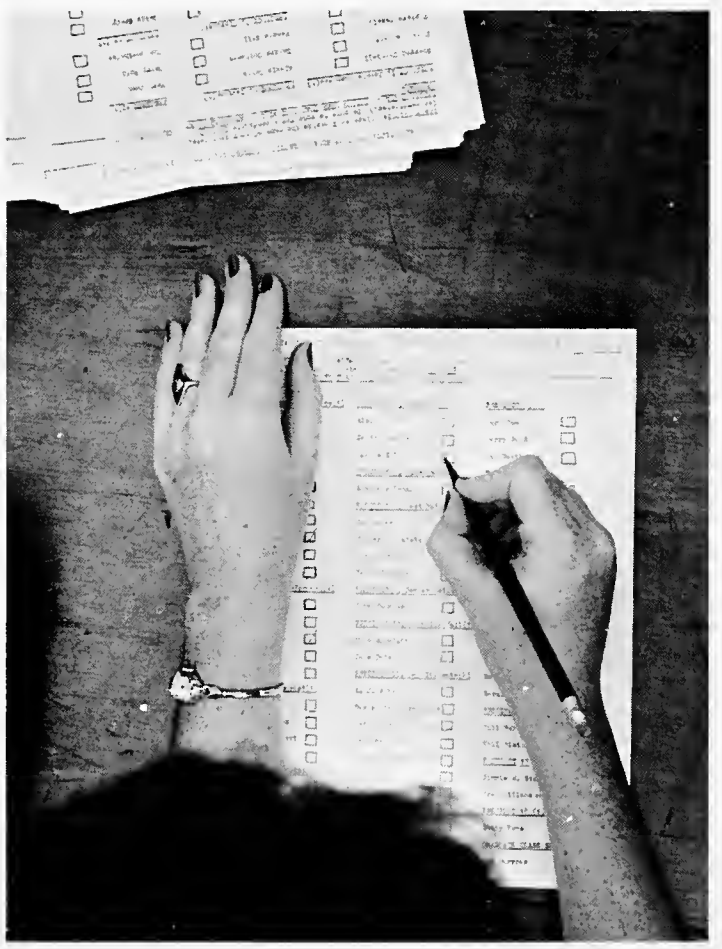
...N TAKES PLACE AS FAMILIES, FRIENDS, AND WELL-WISHERS LOOK ON WITH BOTH PROUD AND SAD EMOTIONS

Graduation Marks A New Beginning

Without a doubt graduation is the culmination of a college career. It represents four years of intense study, of new experiences, of having fun. The fact that it comes at the end of the school year only emphasizes its significance. As each student walks forward in the presence of his family and friends and receives his diploma, he sees in it all his past hopes and fears and at the same time his desires for the future. Quite abruptly he realizes that one phase of his life is gone forever and that now he must begin once more. Many of the graduates will be hurrying to jobs which are waiting for them while others will be continuing their education and still others will be starting to keep house. With anticipation, eagerness, and doubt, each goes to assume his place in the world of maturity. Well knowing that he is leaving behind some of the best years of his life, he still looks with enthusiasm and optimism toward the future for which he has long been preparing. Thus graduation paradoxically graduation is the end in one way and yet the beginning in another.

AFTER THE CEREMONY in the midst of congratulations and hearty handshakes, a graduate still has time to admire a baby.

SILHOUETTED AGAINST THE SKY, THIS GRADUATE LOOKS WITH CONFIDENCE TO THE COMING YEARS OF PRODUCTIVITY



Government

All phases of college life are in some way affected by the work of student government and the university publication staffs. The activities of these two groups is many-faceted and covers an area ranging from women's rules and elections to news presentation and publication of student work. This network of operations is at the same time overlapping and independent. . . .just as the divergent action of each segment of any free society cannot but intertwine if coordination and cooperation are to exist, thus affirming the democratic right.

AT STUDENT GOVERNMENT RETREAT, Board of Publications meets for constructive discussion.

POLLING STUDENT OPINION, student Senators gather information for proposed bill which suggests changes in campus laundry service.

WOMEN SENATORS evaluate women's rules as stated in "Knowledge for College", making proposals for any revisions deemed necessary.

Extensive Work of Student Government

Student government affects all segments of campus life—traffic regulations, dormitory government, women's rules, class projects, the court system, publications. Under the direction of the student body president and his cabinet, areas including public relations, elections, finance, student events, and student welfare are covered. Student government work is often misconstrued to indicate a far-flung, misty intangible, through which certain students find honor and glory. Such is not the case. Behind any honor and glory lie hours of hard, time-consuming work; and the mist is swept away by such concrete objectives as expanded university facilities, Student Artist Series presentations, Speaker's Bureau, increased pay for student employees, improved laundry service, Campus Chest, and the efficient operation of our court system.

SECRETARY OF STATE'S expansive public relations work extends to prospective students and freshman orientation.

FSU Is Host To SUSGA Conference

Students at FSU are fortunate in having a student government that is well organized and strong, is respected by the administration, and compares favorably with other universities throughout the nation.

SUSGA, Southern Universities Student Government Association, held its eighth conference on April 27-29 at Florida State. FSU has been very strong in this association and has actively participated in all of its conventions and workshops.

The Student Government has three divisions of power patterned after our National Government--the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial. The powers, duties, and authority of each branch are delegated by the Student Body Constitution.

The Executive Branch is headed by the Student Body President and is also composed of the Vice President, Women's Vice President, Men's Vice President, and the ten members of the President's Cabinet which consists of the Attorney General, Secretary of State, Secretary of Elections, Secretary of Finance, Secretary of Inter-Collegiate Affairs, Secretary of Public Relations, Secretary of Welfare, Secretary of Student Events, Secretary of Campus Union, and Secretary of Campus Communications.

The Legislative branch is composed of Student Senate. There are two men and two women senators elected from each class, twenty-five precinct senators from residence areas, and the Secretary of Senate.

The Judicial Branch makes up the third division of power. It is composed of the Honor Court, the University Court, the Dormitory House Councils, the Off Campus Court, and the Traffic Court.

The continued strength and effectiveness of the Florida State Student Government is each and every student's responsibility.

Honor Court Serves As Standards Body

The Honor Court is the highest court at Florida State and its responsibility to the student body is a tremendous one. Cases of lying, cheating, and stealing, Honor Pledge infractions, are tried before the Court. Honor Court also has jurisdiction over cases that involve impeachments, questions of constitutionality of the Student Body Statutes, and cases appealed from the lower courts.

The Honor Court is composed of a chief justice, of senior standing with previous Honor Court experience; a clerk, also with previous court experience; and eight justices, two men and two women from the junior and senior classes.

Any student found guilty of an Honor Court offense is given a penalty according to the degree of the offense as judged by the Honor Court, subject to review by the Faculty Review Committee and the President of the University. Honor Court justices are bound by their honor to keep all matters coming before them strictly confidential in order to protect the students.

University Court Renders Decisions

Another important member in the student court system is University Court. The University Court has the responsibility of seeing that all students uphold the regulations of the University. The jurisdiction of this court extends to all cases not otherwise delegated, and over appeals from house councils of the dormitories. It primarily handles cases involved with the Knowledge for College Handbook.

University Court consists of a chairman who has had previous court experience, a secretary, and 18 members, three men and three women from each of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. These members meet as a unit, as University Court, when there are cases involving both a man and a woman. The court breaks down into Women's Judiciary, composed of the women members, when the cases involve only a woman; and Men's Judiciary, when cases in question involve only a man.

Off-Campus Court Backs Women's Rules

The Off-Campus Court is the governing body of the 17 sororities which have houses and also the three scholarship foundation houses for women concerning university regulations. It meets once a week to try the violations which have occurred within the living groups. This court serves the same purpose as the house councils in the dormitories.

Mary Packard is the chairman; each sorority has one vote in the selection of the chairman who must have been on the court for a previous semester.

Court Regulates University Traffic

Traffic Court has jurisdiction over all violations of traffic regulations on campus involving student cars. The traffic regulations are included in the Traffic Code established by Student Senate. The court is composed of a chairman from the junior or senior class, and four members, two sophomores and two members from the junior class.

Any student committing a traffic violation may simply pay the fine or go to traffic court and make an appeal.

Junior Counselors help the freshmen women become acquainted with the traditions, standards, and regulations of university living. More importantly, they fulfill the roles of big sister, consultant, guide and friend. They live within their group of approximately 24 counselees in the freshman dormitories. The "J.C.'s" hold the dormitory offices for the first semester; the freshmen then elect officers from their own class to serve the second semester.

Juniors also serve as counselors for both freshman day students and upperclass transfers. The transfer J.C.'s live in upperclassmen dormitories.

The dormitory government for both freshmen and upperclassmen are organized in the same manner. Each hall has a House Council composed of the president; the two vice presidents, one acting as secretary and the other as treasurer; the social chairman, and the floor chairmen. This council is responsible for interpreting student government to the residents of the dorm and for handling violations of hall regulations.

SEVERAL RESIDENTS OF THE SCHOLARSHIP HOUSE STUDY AS THE "KITCHEN CREW" FINISH WASHING THE DINNER DISHES

Foundation Program Provides Housing

The Southern Scholarship and Research Foundation provides six foundations scholarship houses on the FSU campus. The program is a joint work-scholarship plan which gives students a chance for a college education.

The students that receive the scholarships are carefully selected by recommendation and academic excellence as evidenced by honor grades in high school, and a high score on the Florida twelfth grade testing program.

The six houses, three for girls and three for boys, are provided rent-free to the approximately 150 students awarded the housing scholarships at Florida State. The students share the responsibility of all activities necessary for the effective functioning of each housing unit, that is, household duties which include menu-planning, grocery purchasing, meal preparation, and general housekeeping. The government of each house is similar to that of the dormitories, and is subject to the general supervision of the foundation.

BOP Functions As Regulating Body

The Board of Publications is the regulating body for the campus publications. It functions to maintain the high journalistic standards in all the student publications; it also approves each publication's budget and appoints the business manager. Editors of the various publications are chosen by application to the Board.

The Board consists of eight voting members, five of which are students, and three faculty members. Three of the students are elected and the other two are appointed by the Student Body President while the faculty members are selected by the University President. This year's Board Chairman is Nancy Henderson. Other student members are Lee Kramer, Joe Dyke, Jennie Roach, Georgianna Frye. Dr. Joel, Dr. Campbell and Dr. Pugh are on the faculty. The Editors; business manager; and the Advisor for the Student Publications, Dr. Reid Montgomery, are non-voting Board members.

Business Manager for Student Publications is Virginia Starrett and Advertising Manager, Dave Kam.

New Talent Emerges in '61 Anthology

Now in its third year, the Literary Anthology is the latest addition to the publications of Florida State. One of the best college literary magazines in the South was the commendation given the second edition in a survey this fall.

Each year the Anthology takes its name from the year of publication. This year's edition, containing the best in writing from FSU students, is titled 61 and appeared on campus in February.

The editorial staff—consisting of Leslie Lowell, editor; Dorothy Reedy, assistant editor; and editorial board members, Leslie Powell, Bob Claxton, and Mary Etta Johnson—for the first year had the benefits of an office in 410 Longmire.

The Literary Anthology reflects the tastes and trends of today's up-and-coming writers and provides an outlet for literary expression. An award was presented by Sigma Tau Delta to the author of the most outstanding work printed in 61.

Dr. Claude Flory compiled a supplementary study guide, which was sold with the Anthology, to high schools throughout the state for class use.

61's illustrations were under the direction of art editor, Ray Hitchcock; and Anne Marie Schreiber was exchange editor. Frank DeStefano assisted Sugar Starrett as business manager.

Tally Ho Receives All-American Award

Striving to maintain the All-American rating awarded to the 1960 Tally Ho by the Associated Collegiate Press, the staff endeavored to give its readers a creditable presentation of university life in all its facets–individual activities, organizations, and clubs, special and everyday events and the general character of the campus.

Planning and working toward the 1960 yearbook started last spring when the editor was elected and the job of selecting a staff and planning the whole book had to be done.

With the beginning of the fall semester, the Tally Ho office became a beehive of activity. There were pictures to be scheduled, rescheduled, and finally taken; copy to be written, read, and rewritten; sorting, cropping, checking, layouts to be done. Out of the clacking of typewriters, shuffling of pictures and general chaos, the yearbook emerged.

Profiting from past experience, the staff has tried to create both a tangible foundation for the memories of the year for Florida State students, and at the same time, a public relatings medium presenting the university to others.

Flambeau Provides Full News Coverage

Serving the FSU campus since 1914, the Flambeau, Florida's first bi-weekly university newspaper, has a long tradition of comprehensive campus news coverage, as well as news on both local and national levels. At all University events there is a Flambeau staff member taking notes in order to give students the latest news. The Flambeau also serves as a medium of student expression and opinion.

Top name of the newspaper's masthead is Editor-In-Chief, Deanna Morris, who, with her staff, devotes many hours to maintain the caliber of the paper. What the students read in the Flambeau is determined by an assortment of editors, reporters, columnists, and copyreaders. They work in organized confusion every deadline day to compose a meaningful and informative paper for the following morning.

The Flambeau is distributed each Tuesday and Friday morning about 9:00 a.m. By noontime all 4500 copies have been assimilated by students.

Smoke Signals Adds An Editorial Board

Struggling artists, imaginative writers, and budding wits find in SMOKE SIGNALS, FSU's general interest magazine, a release for their frustrations. Rooted in the originality of the university society, stimulated by nicotine and caffein, it makes a tri-yearly appearance.

With the addition this year of a selective editorial board and an efficient group of secretaries, the editor is carrying out his policy of maximum student involvement. A series of Publication Workshops and creative retreats have greatly heightened the quality of the publication.

Due to the new method of staff organization, which finds its novelty in the fact that it is organized, deadlines are being met – another first in its existence. SMOKE SIGNALS has risen from its chaotic historical background to serve the campus need as a medium of creative student expression.

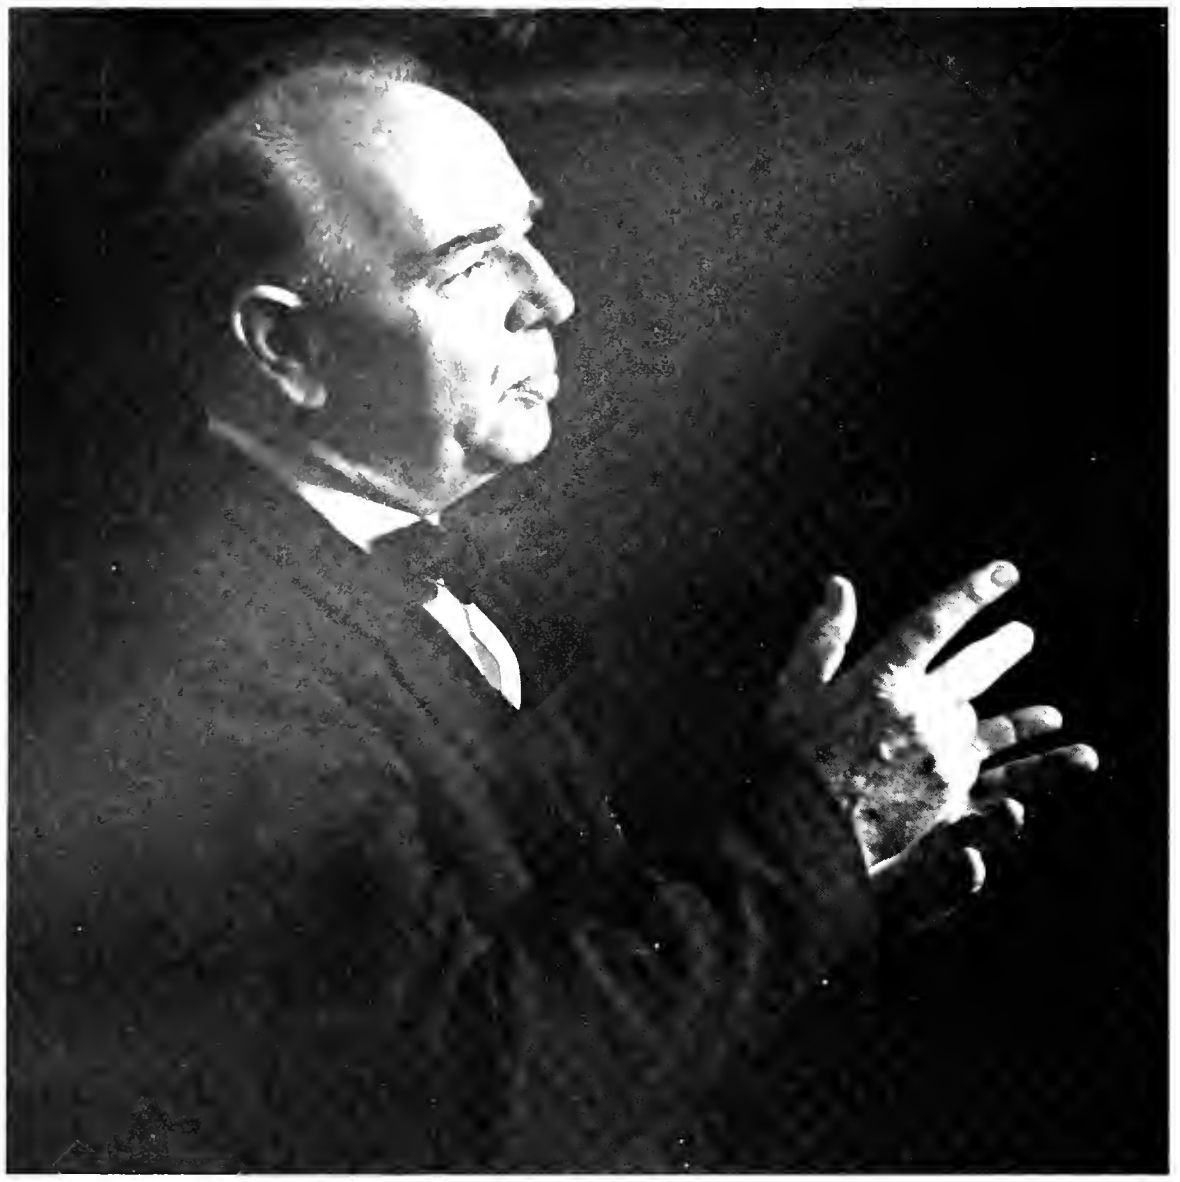
Organizations

The opportunity to further and cultivate group or individual interests is never greater than when one is a part of a college community. The gamut of extracurricular activities afforded the American university student today is probably unparalleled. Regardless of the direction of one's inclinations and talents, there is ample opportunity for development and extension. To engage in these activities is to become more a part of the university. . . .
to acquire a broader knowledge and understanding of those about us.



OUTSTANDING FACULTY MEMBERS give enlightening, and thought provoking lectures at the eagerly attended Last Lecture Series sponsored by Mortar Board.

EXCITEMENT OF TAPPING overwhelms this Junior, who is hastily awakened and notified of her selection for this honor.

Standards Set High For Mortar Board

Election to Mortar Board is one of the highest honors which a senior woman may receive on any university campus. Selected on the basis of scholarship, service and character, these young women achieve a position of respect among students and faculty alike. Through wise division of their time, they are able to maintain above-average academic standing, as well as a variety of extracurricular activities. This honorary sponsors a worthwhile project program, including the Last Lecture Series and Penny-A-Minute Night.

The high standards and basic principles of Mortar Board serve to afford it a prominent position among the many organizations on campus. Pre-requisite to Mortar Board membership is proven leadership ability through participation in several of the numerous phases of extracurricular activity.

Phi Beta Kappa

Founded on the William and Mary campus on December 5, 1776, Phi Beta Kappa became the first Greek letter society. The organization was a secret society and in 1826 it became the honorary we know today. The Florida State University chapter, Alpha of Florida, was established on December 5, 1935, and has since tried to foster academic achievement.

Several teas throughout the year including a Founder's Day Tea on December 5, are among their social activities. The calendar was culminated this year by a banquet for new initiates held on May 17. Officers this year are: Dr. Daisy Parker, President; Mr. John Champion, Vice President; Dr. Robert Plunkett, Secretary; Mrs. Sara Srygley is Historian.

Phi Kappa Phi

Founded in 1897, Phi Kappa Phi strives to offer an honor society on a broader academic level, and with as high ideals as prescribed by any other national honorary in existence.

Members are selected from all departments and schools within the university, on both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Phi Kappa Phi differs from other national honoraries by not limiting its membership to specialized fields. A 3.5 overall average is the minimum scholastic requirement for membership.

Phi Kappa Phi strives to promote the highest standards in scholastic achievement and individual character, and endeavors to recognize these outstanding traits in students by awarding membership in the organization.

Each spring the members tap qualified students, and the new initiates are feated at a banquet held at the Suwanee Room. Serving as officers this year are: Dr. Gregg Phifer, President; Dr. Grover L. Rogers, Treasurer; Dr. Anne Marie Erdman, Secretary; and Mrs. Maria Lacayo, Journal Correspondent.

Alpha Lambda Delta

The purpose of Alpha Lambda Delta, National Scholastic Honorary, is to recognize superior achievement of Freshmen women. Membership is limited to those who have attained a 3.5 academic average for the first semester or a 3.5 overall for both semesters.

The members dress in red and white one day a week and sponsor many activities, including a tea given second semester in honor of Freshmen Women who achieve a 3.0 average or above first semester. The organization also sponsors a fine arts program in the dormitories and assists the administration during orientation. In conjunction with Phi Eta Sigma, an annual scholarship is presented to an incoming freshman student. Funds for this project are raised in part by a coke stand operated during registration each Fall.

Wynn Thornton heads the organization as President, while Maureen Dehler serves as Vice President. The Secretary is Barbara Syfrett; Treasurer, Mary Emma Hearn, and Historian is Alice Barron.

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma is a national Freshmen Men's Honorary which is similar to Alpha Lambda Delta for women. Membership is limited to freshmen men who attain a 3.5 average their first semester on campus and to those who achieve a 3.5 for their first two semesters. These men must also be approved, as well as obtaining the high average for membership.

The members of this organization aim to promote and reward high standards of learning and to encourage high scholastic attainment among freshmen men enrolled at FSU. This group performs worthwhile services such as their project to sell Coca-colas during Fall registration which is sponsored in order to raise money for scholarships.

Meetings of a business nature are held twice a month. Leading the young men of Phi Eta Sigma are Charles W. Waring, President; Marc Julius, Vice President; Ronald Boersma, Secretary; Ray Columbera, Treasurer; and Bob Shelf, Historian. Dr. James Carr is the Advisor.

THE HONOR of membership in ODK is being presented to Governor Bryant and President Blackwell by Roy Mathis.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa was the first National college honorary to accord recognition and honor for outstanding service, leadership and character.

The purpose of this national honorary is threefold in recognizing men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities, bringing together the most representative men in all phases of college life, and bringing together faculty members and students on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

Men of the Junior and Senior classes compose the ODK membership, while members of the faculty, administration, and alumni association are awarded honorary memberships.

Serving as President this year is Roy Mathis. Rebel Bellamy serves as Vice President, while Mr. Joseph Plant is Secretary and Curt Genders is Treasurer. Helping Omicron Delta Kappa with their projects, business, and tapping ceremonies is Dr. James Carr who serves the organization as Advisor.

Mortar Board

Mortar Board, the highest honor a woman college student can receive, is a national leadership and scholastic honorary. It strives to stimulate service, scholarship, and leadership in university life, and to promote college loyalty by advancing the spirit of service and fellowship among university women.

This year Mortar Board has continued the popular Last Lecture series presenting such widely known professors as Jackson Ice, Louis Killian, John Spratt, and George Holschuh.

Penny-a-Minute Night is another project of the organization. On a night chosen by the members, students may stay out until 1:30 and pay a penny for each minute after 12:30. Proceeds are used as as scholarships for deserving junior women.

In cooperation with ODK, Mortar Board participates at the Freshman Honors Night. The groups give speeches encouraging freshmen to continue their interest in scholarship and stressing the importance of participation in campus activities.

MORTAR BOARD PRESIDENT, Jan Pearce, plans Last Lecture Series with Dr. Killian, advisor, who served as guest lecturer.

GOLD KEY OFFICERS: Vic Halbach, President; Rebel Bellamy, Secretary; and Gil McArthur, Treasurer.

Gold Key

Gold Key, a local honorary for men, was established on the Florida State University campus in 1947. The purposes of the organization are to recognize leadership, scholarship and service among the young men of the campus. Gold Key strives to promote continued leadership among its members and to foster service as a worthwhile goal for all students.

There is no limitation as far as the number of members to be initiated into Gold Key but a student must have a 2.3 overall scholastic average to be eligible for membership. Each year, the organization presents honorary memberships at the Garnet and Gold Banquet held during Homecoming Week.

The group has a project each year and no standard is set, however, it is always one of service to the university. Vic Halback serves as President of Gold Key this year and Bernie Abbott is Vice President. Rebel Bellamy is Secretary and Gil McArthur is Treasurer. Helping the young men as Advisor is Dr. Claude Flory.

Garnet Key

The purpose of Garnet Key, established on our campus in 1948, is to recognize outstanding junior and senior women who have contributed to the advancement of the University through their spirit, leadership and service.

Members of Garnet Key have outstanding records of campus activities, various positions of leadership and a minimum scholastic average of 2.3.

A retreat at the Reservation, a dinner with Gold Key and the Garnet Key reception at the beginning of each year comprise their social calendar. The organization also sponsors the sale of Senior Black Books and acts as hostesses at the Homecoming Banquet. Terrie Jones is President, Linda Reams, Vice President; Matile Guinand, Secretary; and Gail Gillespie, Treasurer.

Galberaith, Neil Hewitt.

Alpha Council

Alpha Council, the Freshman-Sophomore men's leadership honorary, was organized on the FSU campus in 1956. The primary purposes of the organization are to recognize potential leadership ability and to develop and maintain interest in worthwhile campus activities of the male students. This is accomplished by bringing these outstanding young men into association with activities which will further develop the leadership qualities which have previously been demonstrated by them.

By putting up the honor code signs in each of the classrooms last year, they helped to promote our honor system. Development of school spirit, stimulation of religious activity, partial sponsorship of the university orientation and ushering at some of the artist series are a few of their many activities which benefit our university.

Officers are President, Wayne Edwards; Vice President, Buck Hutchinson; Secretary, Wally Dale; and Treasurer, Jack Eilertsen.

ALPHA COUNCIL, Sophomore men's honorary sponsored by ODK, serves the university by ushering at school functions.

MAUREEN CURRAN
Church Key Sweetheart

Church Key

Founded in 1957, Church Key, the organization for the "elite" males, is rapidly gaining prestige on the FSU campus. The year, 1960, marks the first time the society has been a service club.

The nineteen members of Church Key strive to promote fellowship among young men of diversified interests and to recognize qualities of leadership and achievement which are necessary in both social and campus affairs. Church Key is dedicated to the advancement of the high ideals of FSU men.

Aside from a monthly meeting on campus, the members meet weekly, by candlelight, at Garcia's Restaurant. They participate in the Homecoming Parade with the Village Vamps and have their own weekend in the Spring.

Ably leading the group as President is Vince Martinelli, while Spanky Purnell serves as Vice President; Jim Wellman is Secretary; and Bill Howden is Treasurer. Advisors for the organization are John J. Andrews and Major Ira M. Gross.

Village Vamps

The ultimate in poise, personality, and attractiveness are the qualities found in freshman and transfer women selected each fall for membership in Village Vamps. After rush parties, pledges are tapped, and initiation is held second semester.

The purpose of the organization is to act as hostesses for the University, and "Vamps" are easily recognized by the traditional black worn when functioning officially. Activities include welcoming visiting groups, serving at various receptions and teas, ushering at Artist Series presentations, and riding in the Homecoming Parade with members of Church Key. They also act as a welcoming committee to greet football players upon their return from away games. The year's activities of this social honorary are culminated in a spring dinner-dance.

Heading the organization this year as President is Rita Garnett, while Yvonne Olliphant is Vice President, Nora Parker is Secretary, and Hazel Harby is Treasurer.

OFFICIAL HOSTESSES OF THE UNIVERSITY is a title most often attributed to Village Vamps, social honorary on campus.

FRIENDLY COMPETITION is forgotten as Mortified member, Linda Reams, sells alma mater ashtrays to Mortar Board alum.

Mortified

"Eii, Eii, we're Mortified." This is the cry of Mortified dressed in the traditional costumes of red and white and a pin in the shape of a dunce cap. The members of Mortified tap outstanding junior women each spring. These young women are chosen on the basis of their leadership, character, service, and spirit.

Mortified is an informal organization which holds irregular meetings at the corner under the leadership of Flossie Avis, Grand Czar and only officer of this unusual group. Again this year, the members sold ash trays bearing the FSU emblem and held exclusive parties to which no one was invited except the members.

A friendly rivalry is carried on between Mortified and Mortar Board, as the only difference between the two groups is the scholarship requirement. Because of their selective membership, Mortified traditionally taps one less member than the rival group, Mortar Board.

Juniors tapped this Spring are: Scarlett Pogue, Kay Finlay, Karen Thoreen, Andrea Powers, Carol Avera, Selby Cannon, Marianna Girtman, Mary Jane McGinnis, Suzie Workizer, and Sandy Asher.

Fashion Incorporated

To promote an interest in fashion and to promote better dress on campus are the prime purposes of Fashion Incorporated. This year, for the first time, the club has set up a system of junior and senior members. Those interested in fashion as a hobby generally constitute the junior membership, while senior members are tapped from the junior members who most actively participate in the organization, and who are usually majoring in fashion. From the senior members are elected the officers.

Each year, "Fashion Day" is presented by the group, and booklets on campus dress are prepared for the freshmen. This local organization also sponsors the campus Modeling Board.

Kathy Ryan heads the group as President, while Tricia Lawrence serves as Vice President. Other officers are Pat Hill, Recording Secretary; Blanche Moehle, Corresponding Secretary; Jane Wallace, Treasurer; and Dorothy Roberts, Modeling Board Sponsor. The faculty advisor is Mrs. Eleanore Adam.

Sorority-Fraternity Social Chairmen

The Council of sorority and fraternity social chairmen promotes good social relations between the Greeks on the Florida State University campus. It also coordinates social functions in cooperation with the Panhellenic Council, Inter-Fraternity Council and the University Social Director. In 1956, the Council of Inter-Sorority Social Chairmen was formed, and in 1959, the group merged with the Council of Inter-Fraternity Social Chairmen to form the present organization. One of the outstanding events of the Social Chairmen Council was the annual banquet, held last Spring at the Elks Club at which Dean Oglesby was the guest speaker. Dr. Oglesby stressed the need for an emphasis on social graces.

The groups meet separately and then combine to decide questions pertinent to both sororities and fraternities. The Greeks keep up good relations by having exchange dinners among themselves, and every week a group visits another house for a party. The officers of the groups are chosen in a rotating order according to the dates the respective sororities and fratemities were founded on campus. The officers of the Sorority Council are President, Naomi Brooks; Vice President, Andrea Powers; Secretary, Bonnie Bedard; and Treasurer, Caryl Lenahan. The Fraternity Council Officers are Richard Gandy, President; John Neal, Vice President; Tony Clinger, Secretary-Treasurer.

Emphasizing the language arts in the elementary grades, Epsilon Chi provides an opportunity for elementary education majors to hear informative lectures about the language arts program. The organization presents an intern exhibit at least once a year. One of the honors bestowed upon Epsilon Chi was an invitation to attend the National Council of Teachers of English conference in Chicago. Officers are Barbara Miller, President; Helen Stewart, Vice President; Nancy Leggett, Secretary; Johnnie Durrance, Treasurer. Miss Fay Kirtland is Advisor.

Social Work Club

The purpose of the Social Work Club is to promote academic and social interests in the field of Social Welfare. The program of the monthly meetings features discussion groups, speakers, and films on many related topics. The club members strive to encourage friendship and broaden their understanding of the field of social work.

The interests of the club have been encouraged by its officers, Virginia Lee Dunn, President; Shirley Fossett, Secretary-Treasurer; Betty Jo Bosseit, and June Amaral, Social Chairman.

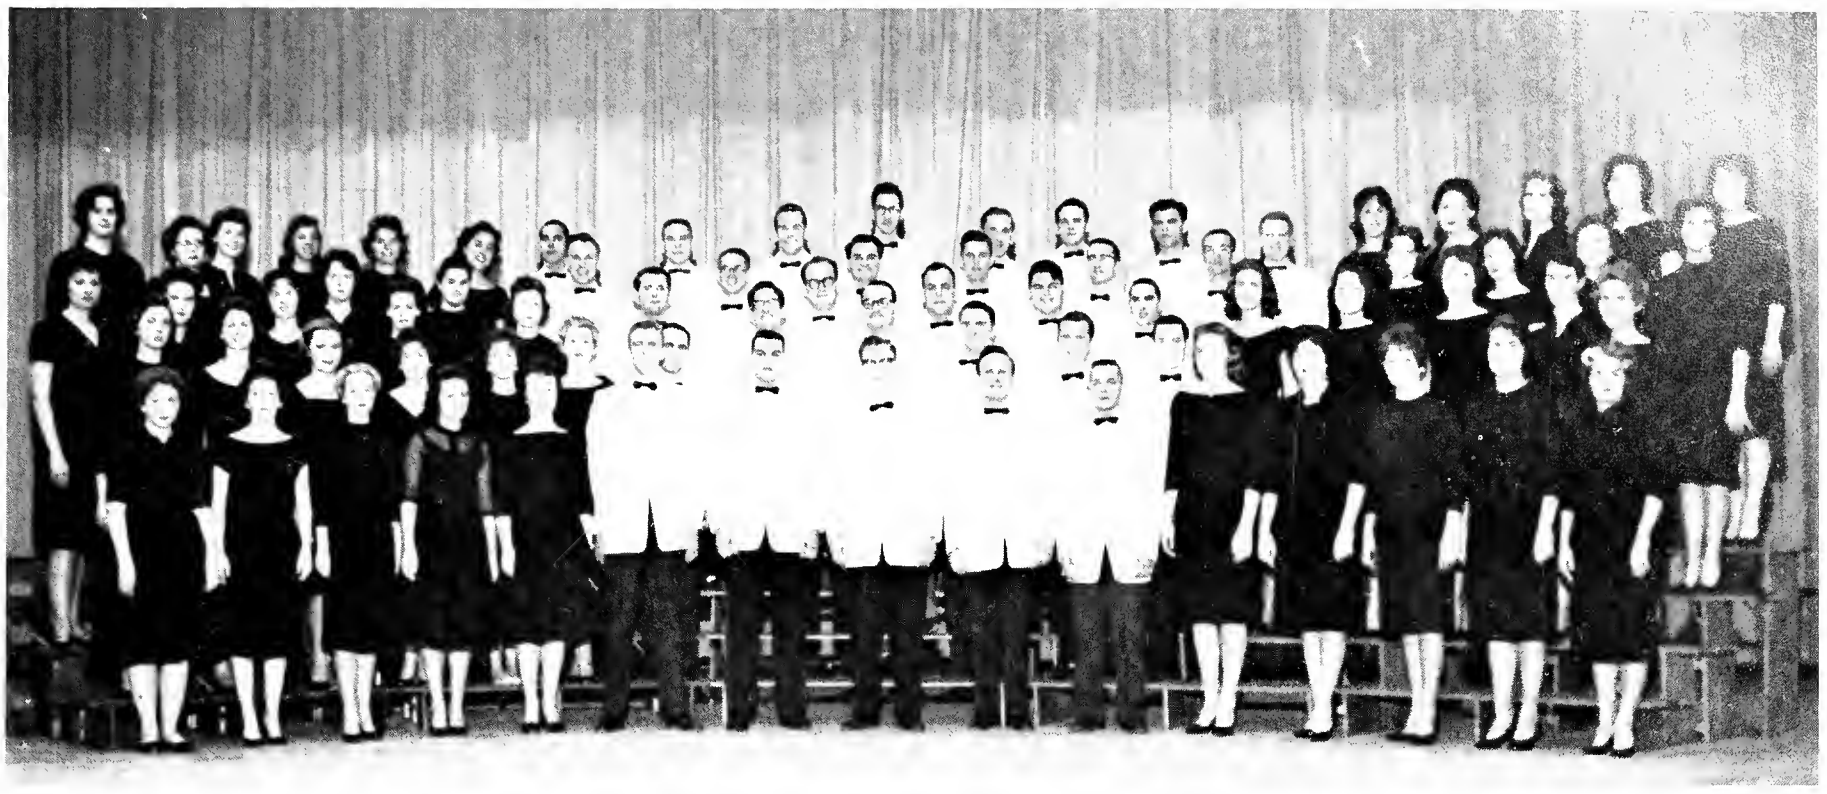
International Club

Representing thirty countries, the International Club has more than one hundred and fifty members. The goals of the club are to bring together all students from abroad who are studying at FSU, and American students who are interested in the activities of the organization, to be a medium of exchange of information about various cultures, and to develop a sense of appreciation and true feeling for other cultures.

Through these goals the members hope to promote the policy of peaceful coexistence through mutual understanding and friendship. The organization also hopes to lead the growth of its members in knowledge and feelings as good citizens of a world society. Firoza Ahmed leads the group as President. Adel Rayan is Vice President; Georgianna Fry, Secretary; William A. Proctor and Dr. Hans Phendl, Advisors.



University Singers

University Singers is open to all students who enjoy singing choral literature ranging from folk songs to contemporary music. Annually the group gives concerts at Christmas and in the Spring. This year in February, the group of ninety combined with the Jacksonville Symphony to present a Brahms' Symphony. One of the special events of the year was President Blackwell's Inaugural Concert at which the University Singers performed Te Deum.

Choral Union

Choral Union is the oldest and largest mixed choral organization on the campus. It was founded at FSU in 1946, and is open to all students who are interested in music. The group meets for class hours on weekdays and Thursday nights. Students may take the course for credit. Each year two performances are given on campus. Both performances were given in Westcott Auditorium this year, one at Thanksgiving and one at Easter during the Spring semester.

Women's Glee Club

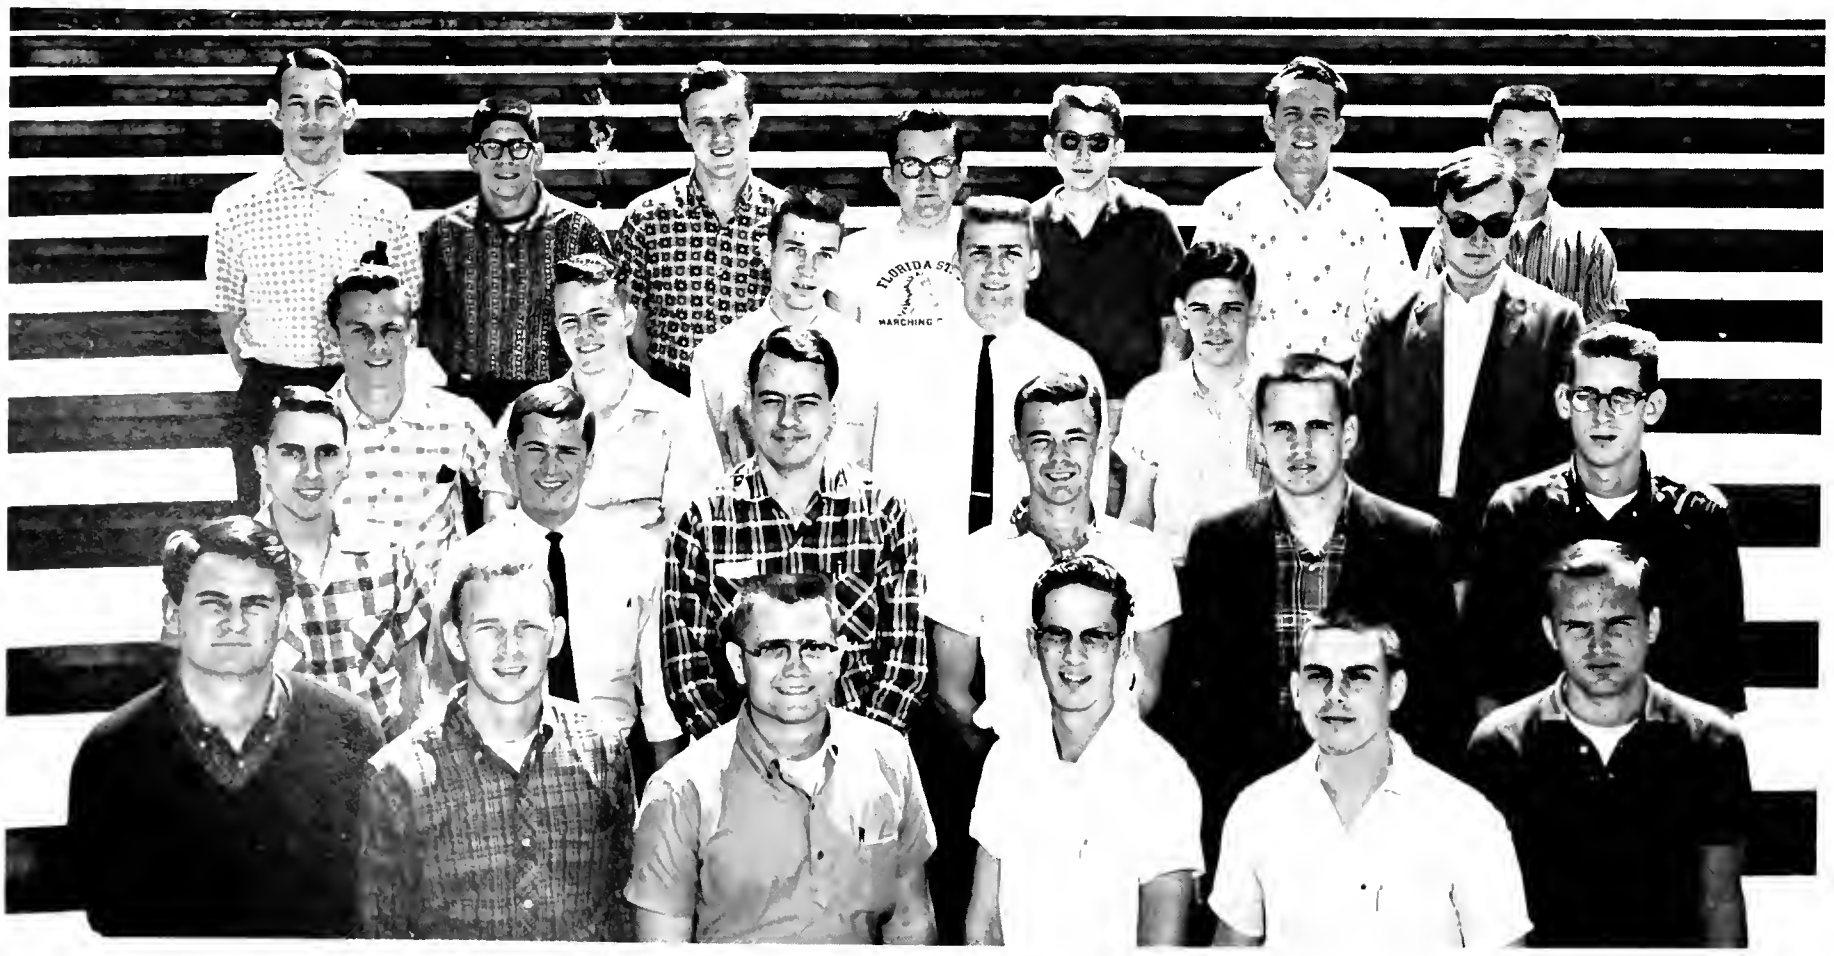
Membership in the Women's Glee Club is open to any woman student who is interested in singing. This year they again presented an impressive Christmas vespers program in Westcott Auditorium. Under the able direction of Miss Betty Jane Grimm, the group gives women an opportunity to gain friendship and experience through singing together.

Officers of the group are President, Deanna Lumpkin; Vice President, Robin Jane Smith; Secretary, Barbara Youmans; and Treasurer, Eleanor Belote.

Collegians

Collegians is open to all male students who like to sing. The members represent almost every field of study in the university. Organized on this campus in 1958, Collegians is our newest choral group, but it has quickly established itself as one of the finest amateur choral groups in the state.

This year the group toured West Florida and presented several concerts on campus. Collegians has also appeared on the campus television station, WFSU-TV. The group is directed by Mr. Raymon Meyer.



Symphonic Band

The Symphonic Band is a group of eighty-five instrumentalists, most of whom are majors in the School of Music. They are selected by careful audition, and placed according to their ability. The Symphonic Band plays important works for bands, many of which are rarely heard because of their difficulty. Four concerts are presented each year on campus.

The Symphonic Band also makes an annual Concert Tour. This season the group made appearances in Apalachicola, Shalimar, Mobile and Andalusia, Alabama. The tour was made Feb. 22-25 this season.

Seminole Majorettes

Under the leadership of their Captain, Penny McArthur, the Seminole Majorettes added color and twirling skill to the half-time performances of the Marching Chiefs. These young women accompanied the Chiefs on their various trips to other schools and participated in such festivities as our Homecoming Parade and the Governor's Inaugural Parade.

Featured soloists of the Majorettes are the Garnet and Gold girls. 1960 marks the second season for both Janice Freeman, Garnet girl, and Beverly Calvert, Gold Girl.

SEMINOLE MAJORETTES: Tanise Cheek, Sara Jo Cothran, Sister Warwick, Barbara O'Neill, Jackie O'Hare, Penny McArthur, Judy McCracken, Suzanne Bahannon, Lanny Harris, JoAnn Beazley.

1960 Florida State Marching Chiefs

This season's band was the largest one yet—approximately 165 students enrolled. About forty per cent of the members are music majors; the rest represent practically every phase of University study.

The band is directed by Dr. Manley R. Whitcomb, who has been at Florida State since 1953. He was formerly with the Ohio State University Band for fourteen years. His assistant is Robert Braunagel. All music is arranged especially for the Marching Chiefs each year by Charles Carter.

The Chiefs made three major trips this season. The first one was to Gainesville for the game with University of Florida. Next they traveled to Mobile, Alabama, for the FSU-Mississippi Southern game in October. Finally, the Chiefs made a weekend trip to Miami Beach for the game with University of Miami.

Some of the most popular halftime shows of the season were: "Hello, 1960 Football Season"; "Love and Marriage"; and "Themes from the Movies". This year the Marching Chiefs also appeared in the Inaugural Ceremonies of Governor Farris Bryant.

November 29 was the annual Marching Chiefs Banquet which traditionally ends the season, and everyone agreed that it had been good for the Chiefs.

Concert Band

The Concert Band, conducted by Mr. Robert Braunagel, is open to all students of any major who play a band instrument and have an interest in concert music. This year the band was composed of ninety students. Three concerts were presented, one of which was held in the Outdoor Amphitheatre.

Among the popular numbers performed this season were "Chorale," by Howard Hanson, and "The Bandstand at Hyde Park," by Haydn Wood.

Interfaith Council

The Interfaith Council has as its purpose the coordination of religious activities of the various religious groups, and the promotion of religious ideals on our campus.

The Council sponsors such projects as the University Picnic during orientation week, visiting each patient in the Infirmary weekly, and selling Student Directories annually. Serving as President this year is Martha Bedell.

Westminster Fellowship

The Westminster Fellowship strives to develop the spiritual life of the Presbyterian students at Florida State University. Under the leadership of Director Miriam Wilson and President Gordon Judy, the program includes study groups, worship, and fellowship, and offers a variety which gives each student a chance to participate in an activity he particularly enjoys. The program is open to students of all faiths but is directed especially for Presbyterians.

Episcopal Students

The Chapel of the Resurrection and Ruge Hall serve as campus parish for Epsicopalians. The Rev. Harcourt Waller is assisted by the Rev. Roger Steinhauer in the coordination of church activities.

All projects, activities, weekly study groups relate to the work of the church in daily living. The Canterbury House is sponsored by Ruge Hall and provides a place for male students to practice a realistic lay ministry each day.

Gamma Delta

Gamma Delta is an international association of Lutheran college students which works through and with the church to promote service and knowledge. As president, Jim Fredericks leads the group in conferences, projects, and programs for added strength through fellowship with the church. The local chapter has received many awards in the Gulf States Region. Rev. R. H. Lehmann directs the varied program of scholarship, fund raising and study groups.

Lutheran Students

Through its varied activities, the Lutheran Student Association offers students a chance to deepen and express their Christian faith. This year the group was host to a meeting of the many Lutheran Associations in the Southeast Region.

Throughout the year a monthly newsletter is published for all members. President Martha Anderson and the Rev. R. G. Walker guide the group in relating their religion to every day campus life.

Hillel Foundation

Hillel is a national organization that seeks to fulfill the social, cultural, and religious needs of the Jewish student in a college environment.

The year is highlighted with the Fall Dance and Spring Moonlight Formal. Sunday morning brunches with distinguished faculty members as speakers are a popular occurence.

Hillel is led by President Larry Fishman and Advisor, Dr. Lonnie Lassman.

Christian Science Students

The local chapter of the Christian Science Organization is actively promoting its ideals on the FSU campus through lectures and the distribution of literature. Bi-annual receptions help everyone to get acquainted with new students on the campus at the beginning of each semester.

The officers are Gary Stewart, President and Mrs. C. A. Gridley, Advisor; Leslie Lowell, Sally Street, Celeste Lawrence, and Allen Dermott.

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation is the work of the Methodist Church at FSU. Its activities include worship, recreation, study, leadership development, and service. Members include any and all who would become a part of its fellowship. Its purpose and goal is, "To make Christ a living reality on our campus," and to strengthen their devotion to God.

The Rev. A. E. Hollady, Director, and Assistant Jane Montgomery work with President Montford.

Wesley Players

Wesley Players is part of the Methodist Student Movement and the Wesley Foundation on our campus. As a religious organization, it seeks to carry the word of Christ through dramatic productions.

Under the leadership of President Bobbi Sheen, the Players aid local and out-of-town churches in presenting plays. They serve the University by ushering for productions by the Speech Department and presenting plays at the Foundation House.

The Newman Club

As a member of the National Newman Club Federation the Newman Club of Florida State University seeks to develop the religious, intellectual, and social aspects of the students taking part in the program at the Catholic Student Center. The Federation was founded almost seventy years ago and has a membership of over 440,000 Catholic College students.

Under the leadership of president Dick O'Brien, Newman Club participates in many campus activities. The religious program is guided by two chaplains and helps students to relate campus life to their faith. Intellectual curiosity is stimulated with lectures, discussion groups, and films. Lastly, the varied social program includes such functions as parties, a complete intramurals sports program, and dances after home football games.

Newman Club is always active. One of the highlights this year was the annual sportsman banquet at which Al Ulmer received an award and was chosen as the outstanding Catholic student in sports last year. Their beloved housemother, Mrs. Mary Volk, lives in the house and attends all functions.

Sports

The enthusiasm, cheers, and applause of spectators instill excitement in the atmosphere which is transmitted to player and sports fan alike. This electric charge of enthusiasm sparks off the winning team. Behind the fanfare, exuberance, and freedom from restraint of those few hours of playing time, however, lie weeks and months of diligent practice and strict training. It's through this discipline that the will to win is realized on the scoreboard. On a playing field, as in all of life, one finds that even freedom implies regulation.

Victory Spirit On Seminole Gridiron

With new enthusiasm, optimism about plans for extended stadium facilities, and a fine coaching staff under the direction of Coach Bill Peterson, the Seminoles played to capacity filled stadiums. Prefacing the games were the cheers of the student body, the stirring music of the Marching Chiefs, welcoming yells of the cheerleaders, and the flamboyant entrance of the team led by Sammy Seminole.

Sports of any nature serve to bring unity within a group. The individual interests of the members of a crowd seem to be put aside for the moment, and their attention and concentration become centered on the action before them. It's this complete envelopment both of player and spectator that gives athletics a special place in college activities. The excitement, skillful manuevering, and will to win of a team maintains enthusiastic support.

PLAY IN ACTION from huddle to pass exerts skill, timing, and assurance of determined Seminoles on field.

New Strategy And Coach Mark Season

The Fighting Seminoles began their 1960 season under the new leadership of Coach Bill Peterson.

The football story had a new twist to it this year with the initiation of a three team system. The team was grouped into three sections: the offensive called the Renegades, and the offensive and defensive players called the War Party. This plan, begun by Coach Peterson, has very encouraging prospects for the future.

Outstanding players selected after the '60 season were, Bud Whitehead as most valuable player, and Tony Romeo as the team captain.

At the close of the 1960 football season the Fighting Seminoles were victorious over opponents, Richmond, Wake Forest, and William and Mary. They also tied with rival The Citadel.

Richmond Toppled by FSU in Opening Game

An opening-game crowd of 17,200 fans watched the Seminoles surge past a grappling Richmond eleven 28-0 to start the 1960 limelight action.

It was a debut for new head coach Bill Peterson and his three-team system, the Chiefs, the War Party and the Renegades, but before the game was over, he was enthusiastically okayed by every FSU fan in the stadium.

The Seminoles rolled from the start, chalking up some 318 yards in rushing and passing.

Hitting with all three teams from every angle, the Seminoles swamped the Spiders and brought to an end their 25-game scoring streak. The visiting Spiders drew 82 yards in penalties, had three passes intercepted and managed only 68 yards in rushing as the fighting Seminoles provided a season-opener that was also an eye-opener.

FSU Chalks a Moral Win Against Gators

Ironically enough, a Tallahasseean kicked the 35 yard field goal that slapped the Seminoles with a 3-0 loss to the University of Florida Gators in the second game of the 1960 season.

More than 38,000 fans watched the pigskin float up and over the crossbar at Florida Field, despite a two-day forecast of rain, which came mostly in the form of a drizzle that continued through the battle. The narrow margin of defeat was actually a moral victory for the gallant Seminoles, who bowed to the Gators 18-8 in 1959 and 21-7 in 1958.

Spurred by heads-up defense, the Seminoles held fast against the two-touchdown favored Gators.

Sports experts predicted an easy win for the Gators but the determined Seminoles, backed up by over 5,000 supporters, came off the field a much-respected team.

Seminole Teamwork Beats Wake Forest

Wake Forest won the pre-game toss and wasted no time in scoring in this third game of the season, but FSU stamina proved too much as the Seminoles rallied to a 14-6 victory before 20,000 cheering fans at Campbell Stadium. It was indeed a team triumph for the Seminoles with all three units having their bright moments of play.

The demon Deacons were not without notable effort, however, and kept the Seminoles busy repelling threats four full quarters.

Fourth quarter scoreboard lights showed the Seminoles barely in front, 7-6, but Coach Bill Peterson's fired-up footballers cinched it by pushing across another TD and extra point to make it 14-6 with only 1:58 minutes' playing time left.

The Deacons went to the air with brilliant desperation, but their efforts proved futile as the Seminoles chalked up another upset.

FSU-Citadel Score Is Historical Tie

Statistics were strewn in the breeze when Florida State met the Citadel on October 8. The bulldogs were rough and tough and ready to prove it as they fought the favored Seminoles to a scoreless tie in Charleston, South Carolina.

Line play highlighted the game throughout, with both teams exhibiting gallant goal line stands. It took a determined band of Bulldogs and a holding penalty to keep the Seminoles out of the victory column, however. The apparent pay-off visit to the Bulldog end zone came in the first quarter with a 29-yard pass which was called back to the official, much to the approval of partisan cadet fans.

It was the first time in Florida State's history that the Seminoles battled to a scoreless tie, but to the Bulldogs it was a virtual defeat of the Florida State Squad.

Florida State Bows To Mighty Southern

If ever a football team showed complete reversal of form between first and second half performance, it was Florida State's unpredictable Seminoles when they met Mississippi Southern.

Although losing to the Southerners 15-13, FSU exhibited a defensive battle that had the crowd in Ladd Stadium on its feet time and again.

Trailing 15-0 at the start of the second half, the Seminoles came back on the field to play football, and did just that, holding the Southerners to only 45 yards rushing for the remaining two quarters.

The FSU offense cranked up in the second half also, scoring twice and threatening relentlessly while the Southerners from Mississippi battled for their undefeated life.

Storming Seminoles Hand W&M Shutout

The Seminoles shocked William and Mary with two touchdowns in the first quarter, and then added one more as the final gun sounded to hand the Virginians a 22-0 setback in this sixth seasonal showing.

It was a seesaw battle after the first quarter. The Seminoles threatened many times, but either ran out of gas, dropped passes or were thrown for a big loss as they were on the verge of scoring.

The only W & M bid was made in the second quarter as the Virginians marched to the FSU seven—only to be stopped cold by a determined Renegade stand.

The Seminoles furnished an ultra-climax by connecting for an 18-yard touchdown pass which sailed through the air as the gun announced the end of the game. It was FSU's third shutout of a Southern Conference opponent this season.

Visiting Kentucky Spoils Homecoming

It was homecoming when FSU met visiting Kentucky but a record crowd of 19,200 who attended the festivities had little to cheer about as the Seminoles fell before the Wildcats 23-0.

The outmanned Seminoles never managed to get inside the visitors' 20-yard line as their attack sputtered time after time against the Wildcat powerhouse. The first Seminole scoring threat came late in the first quarter when FSU punched its way to the Kentucky 22-yard line, only to lose the ball.

FSU again penetrated Wildcat territory in the last quarter, moving the ball to their 21-yard line, but a fourth down pass interception ended the threat.

Kentucky made its final TD with only seconds left in the final quarter. A pass attempt for two points was out of the end zone as the clock ran out.

Miamians Hand FSU Orange Bowl Defeat

Miami's Hurricanes parlayed three big breaks and a third period drive to defeat the Seminoles 25-7 when FSU visited Miami on November 4.

Two fumbles and an intercepted pass spelled doom for Coach Bill Peterson's dogged Seminoles who were behind from the first two minutes of the game. In spite of the final scoreboard reading, the Seminoles proved their determination by grinding out steady yardage against the Hurricanes.

Disregarding Miami's taut line the Seminoles pounded Hurricane defenses with relentless charges but Miami's offensive punch overcame the visitors.

The real scoring binge came in the third period as the Hurricanes pierced the FSU defense. Some 37,000 gridiron fans watched as the teams provided four quarters of fast football in the Orange Bowl.

Houston Trips FSU In a 7-6 Thriller

A two-point try late in the final quarter cost the Seminoles a heartbreaking 7-6 loss to the University of Houston when FSU played its final home game of the season at Campbell Stadium.

Both teams had numerous scoring chances as they fought a battle of fumbles and penalties for nearly four quarters.

Then with 12 minutes remaining, the Cougars from Texas connected for a TD pass and followed with the important point after.

But nine minutes later the spirited Seminoles marched 87 yards to retaliate. Then came the crucial moment for the Florida State squad.

Electing to go for two points and the lead, FSU flipped a short pass into the end zone but it was a trifle too high.

The clock showed 2:39 left when Houston took over, but for the Seminoles time had run out.

AUBURN TIGERS CAN'T REACH SEMINOLE FAST ENOUGH, AS SCRAPPY QUARTERBACK HURLS A PASS GOOD FOR A TEN YARD GAIN

Seminoles Rebound But Lose to Auburn

The Auburn Tigers struck for 26 last-quarter points to overwhelm Florida State's sorely bruised fighters; 57-21 when they visited Alabama for their last game of the season.

The Seminoles won the toss and chose to receive, but four plays later the Tigers took over and began a march that lead to early paydirt.

Auburn got another first quarter score and tacked on a third early in the second period before the Seminoles brought the halftime reading to 21-7.

But the second half turned out somewhat differently. With seven minutes' playing time left FSU trailed 31-21, and that is as close as it came. In less than six of the remaining seven minutes Auburn ran up a lightening 36-point lead over the Seminoles.

FSU had forged a splendid comeback but the closing minutes of the game and season proved fatal.

Cheerleaders Boost Seminole Spirit

Striking the match to Florida State's spirited student body is the cheerleading squad's year-round job.

Being a cheerleader is an opportunity to represent Florida State University in a tangible and stimulating way. They are responsible for igniting pep and enthusiasm at all events where grandstand participation is essential. They supply cheering support at all football games and occasionally lead pep rallies to liven school spirit. Cheerleaders try to create within each participant, both player and spectator, a pride in their school and student body.

Spring tryouts, freshman orientation, the big picnic, the Pow Wow and most of all, the football games—these indelible memories are among the most cherished. To share them is both a privilege as well as a responsibility.

Seminole Five Sets Field Goal Record

Florida State's basketball team ended the season in fine style by winning ten out of the last fourteen games. The season record was fourteen wins-ten losses, despite fifteen out of twenty-four games on the road.

This squad set a new school record by making 45.8% of their field goals. This is the highest percentage of field goals made in Florida State history. Ray Swain helped set this record by setting the highest individual field goal record thus far attained of 53.7%.

This season's high scorer was last year's high scorer—Dave Fedor, who made 456 points for a 19.0 average. He was also co-captain with Jack Davis.

The big victories this season were over S.E.C. Teams: Kentucky, Alabama, Georgia, and also over state rival Miami.

Swimmers Post 10-0 In the 1960 Season

The 1960 Season marked Florida State as one of the outstanding collegiate swimming teams in the nation. To accomplish this feat, they defeated such teams as: Georgia, Miami, Miami of Ohio, Florida and Bowling Green.

This year the tankers open with a fabulous 12 year record of 90 victories, 17 losses and 2 ties in intercollegiate competition. They have had four perfect seasons: 1951-54-55-60. In 1961 the Seminoles will face six SEC teams.

Returning lettermen include Curt Genders, all-american diver, Bucky Hiles, outstanding swimmer for 1960, Paul Thompson, Tommy Mew, Roger Simmons, Carl Butler, Glen Mitchell, Bob Abstein, Denny Flandreau, and Gerry Braden. Promising sophomores include Risto Pyykko, butterfly, Pete Davis, sprints, and Mike Banks, freestyle.

Disputed Status For Varsity Gym Team

The gymnastic team at Florida State University ended its era of championships last year, as it was dropped from the status of a varsity sport. There still is hope of re-establishing the sport through the opinions expressed by student body members.

The only remaining varsity members from last year include Colin Cameron, high bar; Jerome Edwards, rope climb; Bill Beavers, side horse and free exercise; and Jack Ryder, trampoline and tumbling. Jack received the Most Valuable Team Member Award for the 1959-60 season, and also the award for placing fourth in the NCAA Tumbling Meet.

FSU's season record for the 1960 school year was 3-0. They defeated Georgia Tech twice and North West Louisiana once. They also received the Championships in the Georgia AAU Meet and the Mardi Gras Meet held in New Orleans.

Future Looks Good For Baseball Team

Florida State was a much improved team in its seventh season under former National League outfielder Danny Lithwhiler. The independent Seminoles posted a 13-9 record in 1960, the first season since 1955 that they didn't win 21 or more games.

Four lettermen pitchers returned, headed by senior righthander Frank Davis of Miami, and Jim Daniel, Ray McShane and Jack Ross.

Returning regulars to the team were centerfielder Jimmy White, first baseman Doug Walker, catcher Hank Ross, second baseman Jack Dull, and outfielder Neil Martin.

Sophomores with great potential for FSU's baseball team included shortstop Roger Zimmermann, outfielder Dwight Smith, catchers Buck Hutchison and Buddy Teagle, and pitchers Frank Echols and John Tucker.

Cindermen First In State of Florida

Bolstered by twelve returning lettermen, the Florida State University cindermen had an impressive season. With twenty-five men on the squad, they finished out the season with a record to be proud of.

Coached by Mr. Mike Long, the Seminoles were strong in many events. Last year, they won three dual meets, beating Furman, Miami, and the University of Florida. They also placed first in the Florida State AAU team championship.

This year's team captain, Don Ostergaard, held the school shot put record. Mike O'Brien and Steve Long were outstanding jumpers. The strongest single runner in the 440 and 220 was Quentin Till, a quarter-mile Georgia AAU champ.

Moving up from the freshman team this year to help the squad was a group of top-notch cinder talent. Among them was Joe Craft, an outstanding broad jumper.

Tennis Team Has A Good Year On Court

Last year the tennis team had one of the best seasons in Seminole tennis history. One of the highlights of the season was the defeat of LSU 9-0 after losing to them the year before.

This year, paced by Captain Rebel Bellamy, with new head coach Bubba McGowan, the team will be one of the toughest squads in the Southeast. Supporting Bellamy, will be returning lettermen Gordon Smith, Ed Fazula, and Buddy McClain.

Two transfers are flashy Don Loop and Paul Scarpa. From the freshmen squad come Don Monk and Jamie Jamison. Bellamy and Smith set a new record for doubles last year with a 16-4. Bellamy had the best singles record with a 17-3 season.

This year's schedule will include six southeastern conference teams. Other teams will come from the North on their annual tour of the South.

1960 Season Marks Victory To Golfers

"Desire to win, patience to practice and a love of the game" is how Coach Bill Odeneal's golfers started a winning season and continued to make FSU a great golfing school. Downing Gray, Frank Malara and Dave Onstade were just a few of the outstanding golfers on this years team. Asked to pick the six top men on the team, Coach Odeneal felt it was "impossible". "All the boys are capable and work hard to qualify."

This years team began the season playing Rollins and Florida. They competed in the Florida Intercollegiate and played host to Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech and Ole Mississippi, and also played in the All-American Intercollegiate Match. They finished out the golfing season with a faculty-varsity pro-amateur match on our own university course.

Men's Intramurals Spark Competition

Florida State University has one of the most complete and best planned intramural programs of any school. Much of the credit for such a fine program goes to the Intramural Director Keith Pitchford, of the Men's Physical Education Department. Under his capable leadership, the program has grown rapidly from year to year. Both fraternity and independent groups have a chance to compete in a variety of team and individual sports, and the spirit of competition has been as keen this year as in the past. The Men's Intramural Board, on which each participating group is represented, determines the eligibility rules and the sports to be offered.

The program is set up so that there are two separate leagues, a fraternity league and a dorm-independent league. Trophies are presented to the winners of each event, and total points are computed to determine the Overall Trophy winner. This trophy rotates each year, and can only be retired by a group winning it for three consecutive years.

ALL GOLFERS, like John Boesch, never stop hoping for that hole in one, but just can't seem to get by that sand trap.

Enthusiasm Reigns In Women's Sports

The Women's Intramural program is organized and administered by the Women's Recreation Association. The purpose of the program is to provide an opportunity for all to participate in a wide variety of team and individual sports. The student leaders attempt to set an atmosphere of wholesome and friendly competition and foster a closer relationship between dormitory and sorority women.

Intramurals is conducted for the most part by the students themselves. Each group is represented on the Intramural Board, and together with student leaders help to plan the yearly program. Chairman Jean Williams appoints managers for each sport, who set up the tournaments and keep things running well.

Participation increases every year, along with the growing enthusiasm and spirit. The final event of the year is an Annual Banquet, and the presentation of the Overall Point Trophy awarded to the best participating group.

INTRAMURAL OFFICERS: Miss Martha Moore, Advisor; Jessie Stoner, Publicity; Donna Deutsch, Secretary; Jean Williams, President.

Greeks

The multiplicity of sorority and fraternity life makes definement difficult. Manifestation of underlying aims and purposes includes many areas of activity. . . .scholastic, service, social and many more. Participation in campus affairs, active-alumni coordination, community projects, and chapter functions combine to provide a full and varied accompaniment to academics for those choosing fraternity life. The richness of college is neither impaired or enhanced by this choice, but rather by adherence to the responsibility of the decision.

SINGING is a memorable part of fraternity life, whether at meals, during serenades, for Campus Sing, or at parties.

Greeks Undertake Diverse Activities

As formal rushing commences, the year's activities are well underway for members of sororities and fraternities. Homecoming festivities and decorations, the Derbies, parties, Greek Week, and spring weekends splash the year with good times and laughter-filled moments. Though engaged in many chapter functions, Greeks take an active part in campus affairs. Exam time blues, Flambeau news, midnight confidences, black coffee, and rainy day depression—all are shared. Friendships are deepened, loyalties are strengthened, and outlooks are broadened through participation in worthwhile service projects, the sponsorship of campus-wide events, and chapter programs. Fraternity life is not a weekend affair, but an everyday process of living and working together. The new pledge is eager to become a part of the group of his choice; with his pledge to the fraternity is the optimism of an enriched college life.

GREEK COLLABORATION results in a prize winning Homecoming float, the culmination of hours of hammering, laughing, painting, and hoping.

Panhellenic Insures Efficient Rush Week

Diligent, conscientious, hard-working members of Florida State Panhellenic endeavor to maintain a smooth, and effective inter-sorority program. Florida State established its Panhellenic association in 1904 and since this time this national body has regulated rushing, pledging, and initiating activities of the greek letter sororities on campus. Members include representatives from each sorority, and a slate of four officers.

Striving for campus understanding of sorority life and harmony among sororities, Panhellenic sponsors a workshop each year. Each Spring Panhellenic co-organizes Greek Week with Interfraternity Council. Dances, athletic events, and seminars are included in this festivity. Intermingled among these numerous objectives and events, however, is Panhellenic's main purpose and task - to insure an orderly and effective rush system for the benefit of the students.

When September rolled around, the doors of the big white house on Park Avenue opened wide to welcome another memorable year for Alpha Chi Omega.

The fall saw the Alpha Chi's busily stuffing their Homecoming float with the Sig Eps. It was amid uproars of delight and pride that "Thumper" rode through the crowd at the Pow Wow, and with heavy hearts that he was finally dismantled. But his memory lingers in the form of the shiny trophy that reads "Best-All-Round-Float".

With the chapter activities, the Alpha Chi's found time to participate in circus, the Marching Chiefs and Majorettes, Cotillion, Village Vamps, Sophomore Council, Garnet Key, and Mortified. Student government was well represented by the AXO's as Sophomore and Senior class officers, dorm presidents, J. C.'s, and as the chairman of the Board of Publications.

Two great semesters, highlighted by a whirl of activities, have ended too quickly, but the fun and friendship will not be forgotten.

Since its founding in 1851 at Wesleyan College, "we live for each other" has been the motto of Alpha Delta Pi which has guided the members of the Iota chapter on the Florida State campus since 1909.

The Alpha Delta Pi's have proven their ability by participation in many campus activities and honoraries. They have members in Garnet Key, Mortified, Angel Flight, Village Vamps, Junior and Sophomore Councelors, F Club, band, and circus. ADPi's serve as president of Alpha Lambda Delta, Junior and Senior Social Chairmen, president and vice-president of Inter-Faith Council, and Women's vice-president. Student Government keeps many ADPi's busy.

Many varied social events filled the Alpha Delta Pi calendar this year. With a variety show at the TB Hospital and the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children given with the Phi Delts, they combined service with social activities. Their big weekend in May is highlighted by the selection of a "King of Diamonds."

The Rose of Alpha Omicron Pi was first seen at Barnard College, Columbia University, in 1897. Alpha Pi Chapter was established on the Florida State University campus in 1939, and in exactly twenty years their new house was dedicated in December.

The AOPi's have proven their outstanding merit by their participation in campus activities and Honoraries. They are members of Mortified, Garnet Key, Tarpon, Kappa Delta Pi, Gamma Alpha Chi, Village Vamps, Sigma Delta Pi, Pi Mu Epsilon, Alpha Lambda Delta, Tally Ho staff, and Smoke Signals staff. The sisters are officers of W.R.A., F Club, Phi Delta Pi, and Pi Mu Epsilon, Landis Hall, and Panhellenic. In Student Government the AOPi's are members of Senate and Judiciary.

Last spring the sorority won the Ugly Professor Contest sponsored by the Alpha Phi Omega's to raise money for Campus Chest. This contest and others help to exhibit the spirit of the sisters as they work together toward campus leadership.

Alpha Phi's will long remember the school year 1960-61 as the opening of their first official sorority house. The white house on College Avenue is only a temporary residence while the plans for their permanent home are being completed.

The sisters have done much in their two years on the Florida State campus, with members in Sophomore Council, Alpha Lambda Delta, Village Vamps, Fashion Institute, Theatre Dance, Kappa Sigma Fraternity Sweetheart Court, Tau Epsilon Phi Sweetheart, the Chairman of Panhellenic Honor Court, Associate Editor of Tally Ho, Vice President of Landis Hall, Assistant Attorney General, and President of Student Nurses Association.

Alpha Phi is one of the three oldest sororities in the nation, and was founded at Syracuse University in 1872. The official establishment of the Gamma Phi Chapter on the Florida State campus took place on May 17, 1959 with Alpha Phi becoming the eighteenth national sorority on the campus.

Wearing the quill of Alpha Xi Delta are girls of varied interests, both social and scholastic. When the fraternity men put their heads together during Greek Week they elected Alpha Xi Delta the "Hostess Sorority of the year" for the third consecutive year. The Alpha Xi's homecoming float was judged "Most Appropriate to the Theme" for the second straight year.

The "fuzzy pledges" were ranked first scholastically last spring, and individually honored at the Dean of Women's Tea for having the highest women's average were Kay Islay and Terrie Jones.

Alpha Xi was founded at Lombard College in 1893, and came to FSU on May 17, 1929.

On campus the Alpha Xi's include the Presidents of Panhellenic and Garnet Key, Vice-Presidents of Broward and Bryan Halls, members of Mortar Board, Cabinet, Traffic Court, and Senate as well as the student director of the FSU Circus and the Alpha Phi Omega and Kappa Sigma Sweethearts.

Gamma Chapter of Chi Omega, the largest and second oldest sorority on Florida State's campus has combined leadership, activities, and scholarship to merit another successful year.

Chi Omega's excel in all fields of campus activity. Members are found in Who's Who, Garnet Key, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Beta Kappa, Sophomore Council, F Club, Speaker's Bureau, Theatre Dance, Cotillion, Circus, Tarpon, Village Vamps, President's Cabinet, Judiciary, Senate, Honor Court, Tally Ho and Flambeau staffs, University Singers, Choral Union, and a lead in the "King and I".

Chi Omega beauties may be found in the Homecoming Court and Gymkana Court, as the Charity Bowl Queen, and reigning as sweethearts of Sigma Chi and Delta Sigma Pi, and as one of the Little Sisters of ATO. Chi Omega's Owl Man was selected as Joe College in the campus wide contest.

The annual open house and pledge dinner featuring "House of Blue Lights" was a social success.

Much activity goes on in 3-D style as the sisters of Delta Delta Delta engage in their many activities on the Florida State campus. Two outstanding Tri Delts are the President of Mortified and Secretary of Speakers Bureau. Members are in Gymkana, Theatre Dance, Garnet Key, Tarpon Club, F Club, Junior Counselors and Sophomore Councilors, and Judiciary.

On the social side fall found the Tri Deltas building their Homecoming float with the Alpha Tau Omegas and having many exchange dinners and parties with various fraternities. Spring brought an exchange of honors with the Phi Delts as Phi Delts chose a Tri Delt as sweetheart and Tri Delts elected a Phi Delt as man of the year at the annual weekend.

Winning recognition in nationwide Tri Delta by being in second place in the Magazine Drive, they brought honor to Alpha Eta Chapter which was founded at Florida State University in March, 1916. The original chapter in the chain of Delta Delta Delta was founded at Boston University in 1888.

ΔΓ

Anchored together through the ideals of Delta Gamma the sisters have proved their scholarship ability by winning the scholarship trophy for the fall semester of last year. Taking time out from studying, the DG's are members of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, majorettes, senate, Gymkana Court, Garnet Key, Mortar Board, Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Chi Theta, Modeling Squad, Epsilon Chi, Sigma Tau Delta, Tau Beta Sigma, Sigma Alpha Eta, Circus, F Club, Village Vamps, Honor Court, Traffic Court, Tally Ho, Smoke Signals, and Flambeau staffs, Women's Glee Club, Speaker's Bureau, and Tarpon.

In the social picture, the Delta Gamma's selected Bill Farrington as Anchor man at the spring Anchor Cotillion. Combo parties, open house, and exchange dinners completed the calendar of social events.

The DG's excel in their National Project, sight conservation and aid to the blind. They read to a blind student regularly and help with her studies, as their yearly service project.

Since the Alpha Sigma Chapter of Delta Zeta was established on this campus in 1924, girls wearing the "lamp" have been outstanding in every aspect of student life at the university.

The Delta Zeta's have members participating in all fields of campus activity ranging from religious organizations to student government committees. Members include the Secretary of Student Communications, dormitory Vice Presidents and social chairmen, Chief Fire Marshall, and Junior and Sophomore Counselors. Honoraries such as Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, and Alpha Lambda Delta have DZ's as members. They are also active in Theatre Dance, Village Vamps, Circus, and Tarpon.

The DZ's have mixed beauty with brains, for both the Theta Chi and Phi Kappa Tau Dream Girls are DZ's. On the social agenda they have a banquet for the freshman football team, a Christmas party for underprivileged children with a fraternity and the DZ weekend which is climaxed by the Rose Ball.

ΓΦB

This year found the Gamma Phi Beta's caught up in a whirlwind of activities, studies, and good times. The girls of Beta Mu Chapter teamed up with the Delta Chi's to capture the award for the Most Original Float at the Homecoming parade.

Always willing to work on the philanthropic projects, the Gamma Phis presented baskets of food to needy families at Thanksgiving and entertained children at an Easter Egg Hunt. Fraternity parties, exchange dinners, and Christmas caroling provided many good times for the Gamma Phi Chapter.

On campus Gamma Phi Betas may be found in Village Vamps, Young Democrats, Tau Beta Sigma, Marching Chiefs, F Club, Gymkana, and Fashion Inc. The secretary of NRA and the Fashion Editor of the Flambeau are Gamma Phi's, as are Junior Counselors, and Flambeau, Tally Ho, and Smoke Signals staff members. The Gamma Phis are also very proud of their intramural record, for they won the top sorority bowling and softball trophies.

ΚΑΘ

"Ring out three Cheers for Theta,'' are joyous cries as the Beta Nu Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta excels in scholarship, leadership, and service on Florida State's campus. Theta was founded at De Pauw University, in 1870.

Most proud of its members in Who's Who, Garnet Key, Alpha Lamb, Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, Mortified, and Mortarboard, Thetas also turn to a less serious vein as Homecoming Queen, Miss Georgia Tech, cheerleaders, majorette, Tally Ho Court, and Sigma Nu and Alpha Tau Omega Sweethearts. Serving in still other capacities, Honor Court, Senator, and board of publication members include political minded Thetas while through Angel Flight, F Club, circus, Tally Ho, Village Vamp, Marching Chiefs, modeling board, and Theatre Dance members express variety of interests. Thetas also serve as Sophomore Councilors, dorm officers, J.C.'s, and on committees. Earning the Sorority of the Year award proves still further their hard work as a chapter.

Sisterhood in the Kappa Delta circle of friendship has bound the Kappa Alpha Chapter together for a year of projects, activities, and honors. KD's were chosen for the Homecoming Court, Tally Ho Beauty Court, the Gymkana Court, and as Kappa Alpha Rose and Lambda Chi Crescent Girl. Members are found in Who's Who, Sigma Alpha Iota, Mortified, Tarpon, Angel Flight, Village Vamps, Fashion Incorporated, Alpha Lambda Delta, Circus, Cotillion, Garnet Key, dormitory officers, Sophomore Council, Theatre Dance, Judiciary, Traffic Court, and religious houses.

The Hillbilly float for the Homecoming parade won the title of "Most Humorous" for the KD's and the Phi Delts. The many fraternity parties and exchange dinners on the social agenda for the year were climaxed by Kappa Delta weekend in May, and the support of an orphan child in France headed the service projects for the chapter.

The diamond shield of Kappa Delta brings warm memories of college life and shared good times.

Since their beginning on the Florida State campus thirty-one years ago, the girls of Alpha Epsilon chapter of Phi Mu have participated in the activities of the school. Their motto "les soeurs fideles", faithful sisters, is maintained in their daily living.

Phi Mu's are found as members of Village Vamps, Fashion Incorporated, Circus, Tarpon, and Angel Flight. Honoraries such as Pi Kappa Lambda, Alpha Lambda Delta, Sigma Alpha Iota, and Garnet Key have Phi Mu's on their rolls. They may be seen in the dorms as Junior or Sophomore Counselors, or found serving at Scullion dinners.

Every year the Phi Mu's sponsor a toy cart at the Tallahassee Memorial Hospital, in addition to providing Thanksgiving baskets and an Easter Egg Hunt for underprivileged children. Nationally they finance the education of a foreign student. It is evident that the Phi Mu's have a calendar which shows their willingness to serve and to play their part in the activities of the campus.

Wearing the arrow of Pi Beta Phi are Orange Bowl and Gator Bowl Princesses as well as Miss Gymkana. By participation and work together as a chapter, Pi Phi showed its versatility by winning the over-all intramural trophy and placing first in the Homecoming decoration awards for the sororities.

Who's Who, Mortar Board, Mortified, and Garnet Key have Pi Phi's as members. They are active in Student Government and can be seen as Judiciary members, Honor Court Clerk, Senior Class Secretary, Senators, and Student Government committee members. They also serve as dormitory officers, Circus and Tarpon members, as well as Village Vamps, cheerleaders, and Sophomore Councilors.

I.C. Sorosis is the original name of Pi Beta Phi organization founded at Monmouth College, Illinois. Established on the Florida State campus in 1922, Beta Chapter of Pi Beta Phi has strived to achieve its many aims and has succeeded in contributing girls of outstanding abilities to campus life.

The Sigma Kappas as a group got off to an exciting start this year by helping with Gymkana, decorating for Homecoming, and working with the Phi Kappa Taus to build a Homecoming float. The annual Sigma Kappa Variety Show gave the fraternities and sororities a chance to display their talents.

Individually, the girls were also very busy, with members in Alpha Lambda Delta, Phi Alpha, Phi Chi Theta, FSU Debate Club, FSU Entertainers, and Panhellenic Executive Council, Village Vamps, University Singers, Sophomore Council, dorm officers, Junior Counselors, members of the Tally Ho staff, Freshman Flunkies, Pow Wow, Student Government, Circus, a chairman of Campus Chest, and an officer of IFC Social Chairman's Committee. Sigma Kappa was also well represented in campus beauty contests, with Martha Strom representing Pi Kappa Alpha in the Homecoming Court, and Madeline Mahoney sponsored by Phi Delta Theta in the Gymkana Court for 1960.

ΣΣΣ

"Service to Others" has been the motto of Sigma Sigma Sigma since its founding in 1898 at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia. Although the Tri-Sigmas were originally established at FSCW in 1920, they were reinstalled at Florida State in 1959.

In the short time since their reinstallment, they have shown ability and enthusiasm by participating in many of the campus activities. Outstanding members include the Flambeau and Literary Anthology editors. Other Tri-Sigma's participate in Tau Beta Sigma, Sophomore Council, Sigma Alpha Iota, Phi Chi Theta, Cotillion, Sigma Delta Pi, Sigma Tau Delta, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, Garnet Key, Mortified, Marching Chiefs, Angel Flight.

Striving toward a national goal, all fifty-five collegiate chapters of Sigma Sigma Sigma raise funds to maintain a children's room at the North Carolina Memorial Hospital through the Robbie Page Memorial program. Members also assist the Tallahassee Tuberculosis Association in its work.

ZTA

Zeta Tau Alpha—sorority in college—sorority for life. The members of Beta Gamma chapter work together to achieve many goals. Members are in Who's Who, Mortar Board, Garnet Key, Mortified, Sophomore Council, VV's, Speakers' Bureau, Women's F Club, Circus, University Singers, Women's Glee Club, Alpha Lambda Delta, Kappa Delta Pi, Sigma Alpha Iota, Gamma Alpha Chi, and the Spanish and math honoraries. The Zetas demonstrate their leadership in campus activities as Treasurers of the Freshman and Junior classes, Sophomore Class Secretary, Bryan Hall President, Tally Ho Editor, Secretary of Student Events, Secretary of Senate, and as Senators.

Their versatility extends to the beauty field, where the Zetas are the proud possessors of the Pi Kappa Phi Sweetheart; Charity Bowl, Sigma Chi Derby, and Orange Bowl Queens; and Tally Ho and Gymkana Court members.

The cooperation of the chapter has won for them first places in the Sigma Chi and Soap Box Derbys, and with the Theta Chis, the "most beautiful" Homecoming float award.

IFC Encourages Greek Cooperation

The Interfraternity Council at Florida State University composed of the presidents was organized to oversee and regulate fraternity activities on campus.

I.F.C.'s major objectives are to establish rules, regulations, and standards whereby fraternity problems may be uniformly solved. The task of integrating, expanding, and governing the activities of rushing, pledging, and initiation are all involved. Not always acting as a restraining group, I.F.C. promotes better interfraternity relations, establishes intramurals, and propagates high academic attainment. I.F.C. stresses goals to encourage the maintenance of dignity and improved quality among fraternities for better student life at F.S.U.

In conjunction with campus Panhellenic, I.F.C. sponsors an annual Greek Week each spring. This celebration of banquets, seminars, group meetings, and sports events is highlighted by a formal dance at which the Greek Goddess is chosen.

ATΩ

The first fraternity to substitute Help Week for the traditional Hell Week, Alpha Tau Omega excels in service projects for the campus and the community. The chapter visits the Boy's Rance for a weekend, holds an annual Christmas Project for underprivileged children, and the Cresent Club, composed of mother's and wives, has been responsible for several money raising projects.

Representatives of each sorority on campus were initiated into the "Little Sisters of the Maltese" designed to promote interfraternity and sorority relations. ATO's sponsored a Homecoming Court member and Gymkana Court member.

Outside activities for the brothers include Rally Committee, Alpha Delta Sigma, S.U.S.G.A. planning committee, Campus Chest, and Cavaliers.

"Teahouse of the Tau Moon" was the theme for ATO Weekend last spring and featured Japanese temple and garden decorations for an all day dance and picnic held on Dog Island.

First in Soap Box Derby, first in Campus Sing, and winner of the Fraternity Football Crown are but a few of the outstanding honors won by the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. The Delts are active on campus with Chief Justice of Honor Court, Treasurer of IFC, Student Party Chairman, Vice President of Freshman Class, President and Vice President of Cavaliers, and are represented in Church Key, Phi Eta Sigma, gymnastics, Scabbard and Blade, and in sports.

Sorority competition is encouraged by the Delt presentation of the largest trophy on campus, the Sorority of the Year Award given to the best all a-round sorority for honors, scholarship, and activities.

A highlight of the year is the Delt Slave Auction. The pledges are "sold" to the highest bidder for an afternoon of work before their freedom is restored. The money goes to charity. They have an annual Christmas party with the Alpha Xi Deltas for under-privileged children and round out the year with Delt Weekend in the spring.

"Wheat, Barley, Alfalfa. . ." is the familiar chant that identifies Florida State's group of "Fine Southern Gentlemen." In between sipping mint juleps members of the Gamma Eta Chapter of Kappa Alpha are found active in campus affairs, serving as: Vice President of the Student Body, Secretary of Finance, Student Party Chairman, President of Alpha Council and IFC, Precinct Senator, as members of: Senior Men's Judiciary, Church Key, Scabbard and Blade, Junior Men's Judiciary.

The brothers of Kappa Alpha are well represented in athletics with members of the track, football, swimming, baseball, and gymnastics teams.

The KA-SN Charity Football game, and the KA-SAE Pledge Marathon are among the outstanding activities of the chapter. The traditional "Old South Weekend" is begun by a parade and raising of the Confederate flag. The Old South Ball and crowning of the KA Rose climax the weekend.

Fellowship is the keynote of the Kappa Alpha Order.

Kappa Sigmas excel in the field of service projects as once a year the entire chapter visits the Florida Boy's Ranch in Live Oak and works with the orphans there. Each Christmas a party for underprivileged children is scheduled with their holiday activities. Helping to sponsor Campus Chest, they sell chances for a blow to help demolish the "Gator Wagon" before the annual FSU-Gainesville game.

To help promote better interfraternity and sorority socials, the Kappa Sigs award the "Best Hostess" trophy to the most hospitable sorority as elected by the fraternities.

The Kappa Sigs are active in Bakers Club, Tau Beta Sigma, Flambeau Staff, Senate, and Alpha Kappa Psi. IFC Vice President, the director and sports editor of WFSU-TV, and also the Florida State drum major are members of Kappa Sigma.

The fraternity was founded at the University of Virginia on December 10, 1869, and the Epsilon Sigma Chapter was installed here in 1951.

Highlighting the Lambda Chi's social calendar was their annual Christmas party and the Easter Egg Hunt for the underprivileged children, the Crescent Ball in the spring, and the dance with the Phi Delts at Homecoming.

In scholarship they placed first on campus for four consecutive semesters and received their national award for scholastic achievement. Also, they were runner-up in the annual Campus Sing. Individual leaders hold such offices as Men's Vice President, President of Junior Class and Beta Alpha Chi, Treasurer of Phi Eta Sigma, Chairman of Homecoming Activities, Senator, FSU Cheerleader, Commander of AFROTC, and two University Court members. Lambda Chi's also hold membership in ODK, Gold Key, Alpha Council, and Arnold Air Society, and have brothers on varsity teams, including football, track, swimming, golf, basketball, and baseball.

The brothers of the Sword and Shield have proven themselves an asset to FSU with the Phi Delt pledge class receiving the Baker award for the highest overall pledge average and the Phi Eta Sigma award for the pledge with the highest average.

Each year Phi Delta Theta presents the Jim Liteky Award to the most outstanding senior man on the basis of leadership, courage, scholarship, and athletic ability. Phi Delta Theta has produced all nine of the All American swimmers from FSU and have won the overall intramural award eight out of the nine years they have been on this campus.

The Phi Delts claim Mr. Pi Phi and Mr. Tri Delt as well as officers of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes, presidents of various honoraries, members of Alpha Council, ODK, Senate, the President's Cabinet, Gold Key, Phi Eta Sigma, Church Key.

The participation they have shown in all phases of campus life have again won for the Phi Delts the Fraternity of the Year Award.

Founded on March 17, 1906, at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity has sixty-six active chapters of which Beta Iota is one of the outstanding in the nation. One of the first fraternities to establish a chapter at Florida State, the Phi Kappa Taus have always been active in campus organizations and this year have brothers in: Scullions, Marching Chiefs, Symphonic Band, APO, Kappa Kappa Psi, National Education Association, Diving Club, Church Key, Arnold Air Society, Pershing Rifles, Collegians, Choral Union, Seminole Spileological Society, and Young Democrats.

The varied social calendar of Phi Kappa Tau includes events scheduled from the Stereo Dance after the first Seminole football game through the Last Blast held by the pledges before the start of exams at the end of the year. Sorority parties are held once a month and feature a variety of themes. Phi Tau Weekend is the biggest event of the year and ends the brother's year of fraternity life.

Progress—the word of Pi Kappa Alpha. Since 1948, when the Delta Lambda Chapter was established on Florida State's campus, the Pike's have become outstanding in all aspects of university life. They are active in Student Government and boast Cabinet members as well as the Vice Chairman of the Student Party. Other activities are Circus, Gymkana, Debate Club, Band, Flambeau Staff, Cavaliers, Smoke Signals Staff, Phi Eta Sigma, Church Key, Alpha Kappa Psi, Speaker's Bureau, and Rally Committee. Pike's are also to be seen in such varsity sports as track, football, and swimming.

Christmas time brings to mind the Pike's annual party for underprivileged children. On that serious side, they spread good will; however their social life is a gay one. Their many parties are climaxed by their weekend and the annual "Dream Girl Dance". Last but not least, the Pike's are famous for their bright red fire engine with its clanging bell which decorates their front yard.

ΣAE

The SAE Lion has been the symbol of the honor and pride embodied in the Florida Beta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon since it was established on this campus in 1949. Even though keeping their coveted lion unmarred might seem a full time job, the brothers of Sigma Alpha Epsilon devote much time and energy to the support of campus activities.

SAE's are members of Alpha Kappa Psi, Alpha Delta Sigma, Delta Sigma Phi, Arnold Air Society, Gold Key, ODK, Church Key, and Scabbard and Blade, Two SAE's are included in Who's Who. In the field of government SAE's are active as President of the Freshman Class, Attorney General and Senator.

Athletically, the SAE's continue to excel, having the Captain and nine lettermen of the varsity football team, members of the baseball, basketball, track, golf, tennis and swimming teams.

Growth through athletics, social living, and scholarship—the major aim of Sigma Alpha Epsilon—is decidedly achieved in the Florida Beta Chapter.

"The girl of my dreams is the sweetest girl. . .She's the sweetheart of Sigma Chi". . .A distinctive refrain heard frequently across the campus has familiarized everyone with the Epsilon Zeta Chapter of Sigma Chi.

Serenading isn't the Sigma Chi's only activity; hard study won for them the spring semester overall scholarship trophy.

The members of Sigma Chi are active in Alpha Council, Honor Court, Judiciary, ODK, Gold Key, and Church Key. They serve as senior and sophomore class officers.

A part of the Sigma Chi year is the Easter Egg Hunt and Christmas Party for underprivileged children.

Derby time is no small event at the Sigma Chi House. The Sigma Chi Derby has entertained spectators for years.

Scholastically, athletically and socially the brothers display the unity that is found in their fraternity.

Life in the "Snake Pit" is never dull say the members of Zeta Zeta Chapter of Sigma Nu. Many social activities have become traditional during the eleven years they have been on campus. There is an annual Christmas party with the Pi Beta Phi's and an Easter party with the Sigma Kappas for underprivileged children. Also annually the Sigma Nu's have a progressive dinner with the Kappa Alpha's, the Kappa Delta's, and the Theta's. The Wild West party with decorations and planning on a large scale is an outstanding event, and the White Star Weekend is always long remembered. The Sigma Nu-Kappa Alpha Charity Bowl football team combines service to the community with fun for the entire campus.

Men wearing the White Star of Sigma Nu are seen in Choral Union, Circus, Gymkana, Alpha Council, Scullions, Church Key, Traffic and Honor Courts, and Judiciary. They are on varsity basketball, track, baseball, and football teams. The Sigma Nu's combine work and play for a successful year.

ΣΦE

Founded at the University of Richmond in 1901, Sigma Phi Epsilon has representatives in Senate, Honor Court, Arnold Air Society, Advanced AROTC and AFROTC, Rifle teams and drill teams, Marching Chiefs, the Concert and Symphonic Bands, Kappa Kappa Psi, Choral Union, and the Young Democrats. The pledges of Florida Epsilon Chapter received the highest grade average of all fraternity pledge classes.

The SPE's instituted the "Hunt to the Most Talented Sorority Girl" as a chapter project this year, and the pledges held a successful Spaghetti Dinner with the campus invited to raise money for their annual pledge project.

The sweetheart of Sigma Phi Epsilon is selected annually at the Queen of Hearts Weekend which is held in the spring. Aside from the actives the pledges privately hold their own Queen of Diamonds Ball. The brothers also hold many sorority and fraternity parties during the year and schedule weekend parties on the social calendar.

Active in every phase of university life—how well this describes Theta Chi, one of FSU's oldest fraternities. This year the Theta Chi's have proved themselves especially outstanding on campus by claiming such honors as Student Body President, Vice President of IFC, Student Government Cabinet members and standing committee members, President of Alpha Delta Sigma, President of Newman Club, and Head Cheerleader. They are well represented in Men's Senate and Traffic Court, and have members in Gold Key, Circle K, ODK, Alpha Council, Alpha Council, Alpha Kappa Psi, Cavaliers, Alpha Phi Omega, and Arnold Air Society. The Theta Chi's display their versatility in their participation in the following varsity sports: football, basketball, tennis, swimming, track, golf, baseball, and gymnastics.

Leading the Theta Chi's social life are the Mau Mau Ball, Bohemian Blast, and Dream Girl Weekend.

Since 1949 Gamma Rho chapter has brought forth much progress on this campus.

ΤΕΦ

Following the lead of its national slogan of progress and expansion, TEP has continued to grow on the campus of Florida State as have its brother chapters that now swell the ranks of Tau Epsilon Phi to over fifty national active chapters at present.

The new TEP house provides a fine background for their many social activities. The alumni returning for Homecoming are honored by the active brothers at an annual Alumni Banquet. TEPs also have Roman Toga Weekend when costumes and decorations recreate the world of the Caesars, Founder's Day Ball, and the annual Lavender and White Weekend in May.

Intellectual, social, and moral qualities are impressed on the members who are found in honoraries, clubs, and school publications such as the Flambeau staff.

In service and charity they are active in the Red Feather campaign and "Shoe Shines for Polio" and contribute to the national fund raising campaign.

The newest chapter among Florida State's sixteen fraternities, Delta Chi has already proven to be an asset to the campus. Organized as a Colony last year, the members have established themselves in such activities as Cavaliers, Rally Committee, IFC, Air Force Band, Sigma Phi Sigma, and golf, baseball, track and swimming teams. Outstanding Delta Chi's include the Governor of West Hall and member of the Florida State cheerleading squad.

Delta Chi's and Gamma Phi Beta's built the "Most Original" float in the 1960 Homecoming Parade with an authentic, red curtained stagecoach, team of horses, and war-painted Seminole astride a horse symbolizing "Fine team, fine coach, fine spirit."

Social functions highlighted in the new Delta Chi house include their annual Founder's Day Banquet, their Weekend, Carnation Ball, and the Delta Chi-Kappa Sig Luau, plus sorority exchange dinners.

Florida State welcomes such active participants in fraternity and campus life.

Classes

A class is made up of a variety of individuals and the particular talents, habits, likes, and dislikes of each of these distinct personalities. The class collectively may be taking the courses of a similar level, attending the same functions, sharing the same desks, and even registering for identical courses simultaneously. . . .but each member looks different, acts differently, and is distinctive in his own way. It's the conglomeration of attitudes, personalities, thoughts, and abilities that comprise the group.

THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

MARRIED STUDENTS, familiar on college campuses today, successfully combine serious study with their family life.

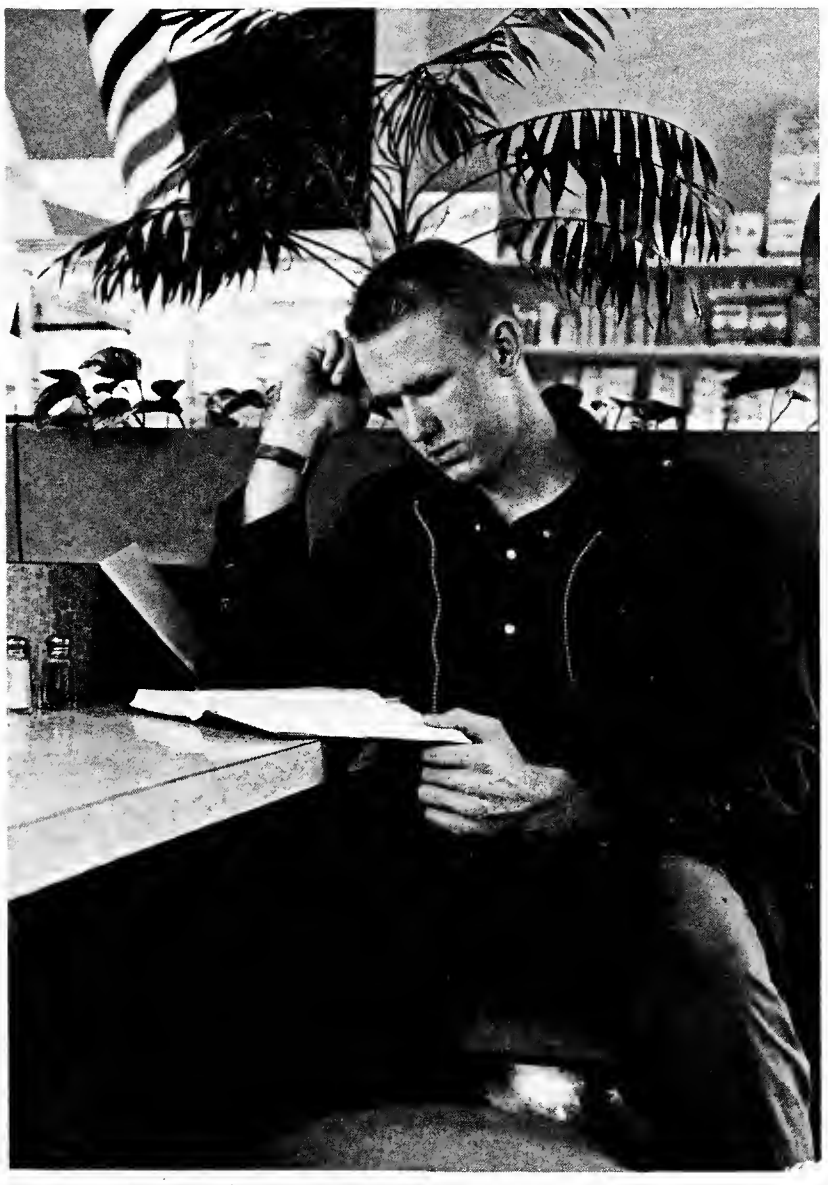
PROFESSIONAL POLISH is achieved through practice in the class room, field work, and on the job training.

THESE GRADUATE STUDENTS RELAX WHILE INFORMALLY DISCUSSING RESEARCH PROBLEM WITH PROFESSOR AND EACH OTHER

Many Individuals Compromise Classes

In an age characterized by standarization and conformity, the individual is often submerged under the group heading "freshman", "sophomore", "junior", "senior"; but the similarities and differences of individuals far exceed a simplified academic designation. Each class is composed of a number of personalities, no two of which are exactly alike. Within the same classroom, among even students pursuing the same major, will be found tastes ranging from Renoir to Winston Churchill, lamb chops to chop suey, astrology to stamp collecting. One economics student may be preparing for a career with the state department, while another enrolled in the course because it was taught in the same building as his previous class and the hour was convenient. Thus, the varieties of common experience both unite and distinguish us, shaping many distinct personalities.

CREATIVE EFFORTS require that fine arts students devote long hours to technique in developing talents.



FRESHMAN makes study attempt in the Corner, but his bemuddled look indicates less than full comprehension.

EXPERIMENTAL study occupies the time and interest of psychology student engaged in clinical research.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Judy Smith, Social Chairman; Bobbie Calvert, Treasurer; Judy McMillian, Secretary; Rebel Bellamy, Vice President; Vic Halbach, President.

Florida State University's Class of 1961

Robed in black, wearing mortar boards with tassels of colors representing the various schools and holding parchment signifying scholastic achievement are the members of the 1961 graduating class. These are only the outward symbols of individuals whose years at FSU have been an unique experience. They have seen growth of a university, changes in administration and policies; their contributions to the university have been varied, but each individual hopes that in some way his presence here has benefited the school. On the faces of these new graduates is the look of pride in accomplishment and eagerness in beginning a new career. They view in retrospect their years—cramming sessions, senior automatics, eight o'clock classes in the rain—and look to the future as Graduates of 1961.

Who's Who

Election to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges is one of the highest honors a Senior at FSU may receive. The three criteria for election to this honor are: to have maintained a 2.3 overall average for the preceeding six semesters, to exhibit leadership in the various fields of campus life, and to show cooperation and willingness to serve in educational and extracurricular activities.

Any organized campus group may nominate candidates for Who's Who. This list is reviewed by a committee headed by the Secretary of Student Events and then voted upon by members of the Senior Class. This year thirty-six Senior men and women were elected to the honor.

Activitities Planned By Class Officers

Officers of all classes include the President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Social Chairman, and two Senators. These groups working with their advisor, Miss Marie Williams, plan the activities for their classes.

The Freshman Talent Show is the initial activity in which the Freshmen participate. Their first social function is a dance; later in the spring a picnic or informal dance at the Reservation is held.

Sludges, sponsored by the Sophomore Class, 'welcome' the Freshmen to FSU during Orientation Week. On the serious side, Sophomores honor the Seniors each call at the Sophomore-Senior Buffet before the Senior Investiture.

Sponsoring a dance after one of the early football games is the first project of the Junior Class. Another function of this class is the Hall of Fame selection. The Juniors assume the leadership, with the aid of the other classes, in sponsoring the Spring Formal which honors the Seniors.

STAFF ADVISOR, Miss Marie Williams, assists class officers in planning their projects and social activities for the year.

Freedom and the Future ....

With the completion of each goal, there is a sense of self-satisfaction and elation. The attainment of an end implies planning, conscientious effort, and belief in purpose. However, in our lives there are series of goals—of aims—which lead to an ultimate end which is never quite achieved. The closer we come to it, the further we realize we must reach. So it is with college. The conferring of a degree merely puts us a little nearer the next goal.

The end of one's formal education is but a preparation—a beginning—from which we are free to explore and investigate. The opportunity of education and freedom in planning it has been granted; now we must accept responsibility for it. Practical application of principle is justification of its existence.

Through freedom of expression, the myriad aspects of this expression, come the manifestations of growth and awareness. Whether this manifestation is in the form of poetry or efficient office management, it signifies purpose and attainment.

Paradoxically, freedom does impose certain limitations upon us. They serve to highlight our vast amount of liberty. Without aims, without standards, without laws, freedom becomes chaotic anarchy. It is through adherence to basic principles of discipline that we operate successfully and productively. Ours is a future in which we are confronted with the question of what we shall choose. The boundaries with which any restriction confines us are no smaller than our initiative and ability. The problem is in reaching our limitation, for the future is enveloped in opportunity. The responsibility is to accept it.

....WE HAVE THE SATISFACTION OF FULFILLMENT, THE ADVANTAGE OF EXPERIENCE....

....AS WELL AS THE REALIZATION OF AND ENTHUSIASM FOR THE FREEDOM OF OPPORTUNITY AHEAD

Never having been part of a society in which the betrothed had no voice in the selection of a mate....we do not fully realize the freedom from restraint allowed us in our choice of friends and decision to marry. Ones social relationships are among the most important....through our association with others, our own interests and abilities are better understood. Most often, it is with another that ones status in society is determined, his aims and goals made most dynamic....

The desire for freedom of worship was the reason for the establishment of the first American colony. This same freedom is today so basic, that it is taken for granted. Separation of church from state places ones concept of religion in an almost more prominent position....for it is through this concept and its application in daily situations that character is built. Faith....the reverence of a Supreme Being....spiritual comfort....these have been among man's basic needs since the beginning. With this need for fulfillment is the search for beauty....perfection.

We are probably no more impressionable to the views and opinions around us than during the formulative years of formal education. College is the apex of ones intellectual growth. Academic proficiency serves as a measure of this growth. With our freedom in which to make decisions is the responsibility of making them intelligently....for the future rests on these decisions. To take advantage of the freedom of intellectual pursuit is to succeed in carrying out the responsibility of informed awareness.

Planning for graduation has occupied the thoughts of most for four years. With the realization of this immediate goal.... planning for the future does not cease. We are now prepared to begin working from the foundation this goal has provided. Entrance into the world of business opens new vistas of experience, of ideas to be developed, of practical application. The restraints, the pressures....the freedoms, the privileges....are those imposed or allowed through our own choice and volition....through the life we make.

The victory won signifies that the work has commenced. The excitement and anticipation of beginning a new job....of taking on new responsibility....of being allowed new freedom of leadership....imbues one with a sincere devotion to the task ahead and a wholehearted desire to succeed. This renewed dedication of purpose and accompanying sense of optimism is the hope of the future....that which frees the future from the chains of the past.

The inward satisfaction and confidence gained through the knowledge that an aim has been carried out....that a job is successfully completed....is the reward of attaining that end. To see ones efforts contribute to the realization of the professed goal of a group is the incentive to further involvement of self. With the opportunity to draw from successful experience, is the freedom to use it....the responsibility to employ it....in relieving the future of problems of the past. The challenge of life exists still....the accomplishment of each single goal is the means in which it is met.
